U.S. SECRET SERVICE JOINS KIDNAPER HUNT

Find Remains Of Baby Lindbergh Near Hopewell

Discovery Made Late Thursday By Negro Truck Driver

PROBE REVEALS BABY MURDERED

Curly Headed Tot Likely Killed Shortly After Being Kidnaped

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 13.—Poor little babe in the woods.

Baby Lindbergh, born under a golden star, was murdered.

He gurgled and kicked his fat little legs. He laughed at the sunshine and gripped the finger of his famous father. He snuggled to his loving young mother.

Strange and rough hands took him away from his cozy crib on March 1.

He was just a baby with life and everything ahead of him.

Today—the battered body of the little fellow lay in a morgue with the physicians of the law probing at him and the world sobbing.

He didn't know what it was all about. Never had a chance to play with the clouds like his famous daddy, the Flying Colonel.

They dragged him out of his crib and he had to leave his toy soldiers and animals behind.

Even as he "goo-ed" and dimpled —they struck him down.

Body In Woods For Weeks

While during the past two months the world peered into its shadows for trace of the kidnaped baby and his keepers, the quiet body of the two-year-old innocent baby lay bundled under the leaves in a gully only five miles away from the Lindbergh estate.

Label it the greatest American tragedy.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Local gardeners are getting a little impatient for it to quit raining so that they may get their seeds into the ground. However, it is better to wait until the sun starts shining, as many seeds rot in the ground and do not sprout during weather like this. Warm sunshine is needed to bring them through the soil.

Pa Newc saw two new auto license plates yesterday, which he had not observed this year yet. One was a Wisconsin license, pale blue letters on a yellow background, and a Massachusetts license, white letters on a mahogany background. Licenses of only a few states have not been seen as yet this year, many tourists having started out early this year, seemingly.

City workmen are continuing the job of cleaning up and planting grass in the city park on the public square.

Colonel Lindbergh Being Hoodwinked By Swindler Gang

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., May 13.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was being hoodwinked by a gang of swindlers who were seeking to mulct him out of more ransom money at the time the body of his murdered son was found, Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf revealed in an official bulletin issued today.

Schwarzkopf announced that at the time the body was discovered in the woods Colonel Lindbergh was aboard a boat off the Jersey coast seeking to recover his child from a gang of crooks who sought to convince the colonel they were the kidnapers and had the baby.

Lindbergh Returns.

The text of Col. Schwarzkopf's bulletin follows:

Billion And Half To Provide Jobs And Give Relief

President And Democrats Reach Agreement On Gigantic Program

HUGE BUILDING PROGRAM PLANNED

Congress To Be Asked To Enact Emergency Legislation At Once

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 13.—One billion, five hundred million dollars of Federal money to provide jobs for the great army of unemployed and actual relief for the destitute was in prospect today as a result of one of the greatest political compromises in modern American history.

President Hoover, who is seeking re-election, and the Democrats, who are confident they will replace him, both will be gambling heavily on its appeal to the voters next November, each from a different angle.

Reach Compromise

The President and Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader of the senate, have reached a compromise that will make $1,200,000,000 available through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a huge building program designed to afford immediate employment, and another $300,000,000 for what amounts to charity relief.

Regular Republicans of the senate, where the proposal will come to a test vote, already were safely in line behind the President. Robinson was to have a final meeting with the Democratic steering com-

"Jafsie"; Curtis Are Questioned By State Police

Seek To Learn Who Was Negotiating With Supposed Go-Betweeners

(International News Service)

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 13.—John F. Condon and John Hughes Curtis, the two self-appointed negotiators who claimed to have been in touch with the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby were questioned until an early hour this morning by Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf of the state police and then turned over to Prosecutor Erwin E. Marshall of Mercer county for further grilling.

Until now their contacts with the supposed representatives of the kidnapers have been treated as privileged communications by the police authorities who, from the start have been backward in their desire to

Reichers Begins Non-Stop Flight To Paris Today

American Airman Leaves Harbor Grace, N. F., Bound Over Treacherous Atlantic

HOPES TO REFUEL AT DUBLIN, IRELAND

Hopes To Cut In Half Time Made By Col. Lindbergh In Same Hop In 1927

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., May 13.—Lou Reichers, 31-year-old American airman, took off from Harbor Grace at 8:29 a. m. local time today on an attempted non-stop solo flight across the Atlantic.

Reichers, flying his low-winged monoplane, hoped to reach Dublin without a stop. He planned to refuel there and then continue on to Paris.

Reichers got away from Harbor Grace at 7:29 a. m. Eastern Daylight Savings Time, confident that he would be able to cover the 3,500 miles between this port and Paris in seventeen hours.

His plan was to cut in half the time taken by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh for the same distance in 1927.

Governor Believes Kidnapers Will Be Apprehended

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 13—The Daily Express today said that Governor A. Harry Moore of New Jersey told it via transatlantic telephone that he thought he was on the trail of the Lindbergh murderers.

When asked if he had any clues as to the identity of the kidnapers Gov. Moore replied as follows, according to the Express:

"We think we have. I think I know who did it."

WHERE THEY FOUND BABY LINDY

Negro Who Discovered Lindbergh Baby's Body Overcome At Horror

By QUENTIN REYNOLDS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 13.—William J. Allen, a mild mannered 42-year-old Virginia negro, found himself hurled into the spotlight of publicity today as a result of accidentally finding the pitiful remains of the Lindbergh baby less than five miles from the home from which it was kidnaped 73 days ago.

It was Allen who alighted from a truck yesterday afternoon on the road from Hopewell to Princeton to stare with fascinated horror at what had been the most famous baby in the world.

Allen, the father of four children and the grandfather of six, was still so horror stricken this morning at having been singled out by fate to solve the mystery of the missing child that he could only gasp out his story in disconnected phrases.

Hope They Get Fiend.

"I hope they get the devil who killed that baby," the negro said, as he sat in his Trenton home dangling a six-year-old grandchild on his knee. "Only a devil could have done that." He lowered his voice to a whisper. "There was a big hole in the baby's head."

Dr. Charles H. Mitchell, county physician, performed a post mortem on the boby. The lines of the physician's face were grim as he came from the little room in the back of the morgue.

"The body has been there for at

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., May 13.—They were all just young recruits, told to hold on and they did. Two met death because they had no hand hold, or no chance. The other did have one chance in a million and he took it. Now we all want to hang onto him like him to the Akron. He lives just 25 miles as the Ford flies from my home, the glorious old state of Oklahoma, here a rope is not just an implement—it's a tradition. Our history has been built on citizens dangling in the air by a rope and some escapea the dangling that would have made better history. But we are proud of this boy. Unlike his early ancestors he tied his own knots, and saw that they weren't around his neck.

Probe Death Of Six In Blast At Franklin, Ohio

Seven Are Injured When Explosion Wrecks Pulp And Paper Company

BIG BUILDING IS COMPLETELY RUINED

Loss By Blast And Fire Is $125,000 — Investigation Is Pushed

(International News Service)

FRANKLIN, O., May 13—With six men dead and seven injured, investigation was begun today to establish the cause of a terrific explosion which demolished the two-story brick building of the Chaney Pulp & Paper Co., here late yesterday, causing damage estimated at $125,000.

The blast was believed to have originated in the boiler room of the building where rags were cooked for manufacture into paper pulp. It reduced the enitre building into shambles and buried several of the victims under the debris of brick and concrete.

Those fatally injured were:

Finley Couch, 30; Sam Thompson, 47; Richard Thompson, 24, his son; James Young and Preston Young, 18, his son, and Sam Hawthorne.

MARSEILLES, May 13.—Former King Alfonso of Spain was struck in the face by a Spanish laborer when he debarked from the liner Strathaird on his arrival from Malta today.

Alfonso came to Marseilles to visit his son, the Infante Don Juan, who is now in service as a cadet in the British navy.

Police intervened and arrested the Ex-King's attacker. Later in the day, Alfonso motored to Fonteinebleau, near Paris, where he has a Chateau.

PRESIDENT ORDERS NATIONAL POLICE AGENCIES TO HUNT BABY LINDBERGH SLAYERS

Greatest Man Hunt Of All Time Is Started To Get Kidnapers And Slayers Of Son Of Col. And Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh — Nation, State And Other Agencies Unite To Bring Perpetrators Of Outrage To Justice

(By International News Service)

With President Hoover an active participant, the nation's forces of law and order combined today in a sweeping search for the brutal murderers of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's infant son.

From the White House, the President ordered all Federal agencies to work on the case, instructing them not to relax until the criminals responsible have been tracked down and punished.

Later, the President discussed with members of his cabinet what possible measures the Federal Government can take to assist in apprehension of the murderers. He instructed all departmental heads to cooperate in every way possible in clearing up the case.

Spurred by the President's instructions to consider the slaying a "live and never-to-be-forgotten cause," state and municipal authorities bent all the forces at their command to cooperate in the search.

Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, New Jersey State Police Superintendent, recruited twenty extra men at the Lindbergh home in Hopewell and despatched them on secret missions.

John F. Condon and John Hughes Curtis, who carried on negotiations with different groups they believed to be the kidnapers, were questioned at length in the hope of furnishing some clue enabling the slayers to be brought to heel.

The New Jersey authorities are convinced they know the identities of several suspected of complicity in the crime.

President Orders Action

WASHINGTON, May 13—President Hoover today ordered all the police agencies of the Federal Government to work on the Lindbergh kidnaping and murder case until it is solved and the criminals responsible brought to justice.

Shocked by the crime, the President, after reading full accounts of the discovery of the body of the little victim, issued the following statement from the White House today:

"I have directed the law enforcement agencies and the several secret services of the Federal Government to make the kidnaping and murder of the Lindbergh baby a live and never-to-be-forgotten case, never to be relaxed until these criminals are implacably brought to justice.

"The federal government does not have police authority in such crimes but its agencies will be unceasingly alert to assist the New Jersey police in every possible way until this end has been accomplished."

Letter Left By Baby Kidnapers

International News Reveals Text Of Letter Left When Baby Was Stolen

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 13.—Since March 2, International News Service was in possession of the approximate verbatim text of the note left by the Lindbergh baby kidnapers.

Fearing publication might militate against the safe return of the infant, International News Service refused to release it until today after news of the baby's death.

The text is as follows:

"Dear Sir: Have $50,000 ready, $25,000 in $20 bills, $15,000 in $10 bills and $10,000 in $5 bills.

"Have them in two packages.

"Four days we will inform you to redeem the money.

"We warn you for making anything public, or for notifying the police.

SENIORS SCORE IN COMMENCEMENT PLAY

'Take My Advice' Well Presented

School Players Fit Comedy Roles To Perfection On Thursday Night

EVERY PART HAS LEAD IMPORTANCE

As a general rule, advice is worth what you pay for it. Occasionally you pick up an odd lot of advice that is worth more than the market price and the advice to see "Take My Advice" in the Senior High School last night was that kind of advice.

The play is another of those things that high school players can really do well. To this you can add the fact that the cast producing it was well balanced and that every one of the eight in the cast had a part with meat in it. Smart lines, humorous scenes, and enough suspense to keep you uncertain to the end. The answer to it all was an entertaining evening.

Oil, Love And English

The three elements that spiced the play were oil, love and English. Bud Weaver, seventeen, decided he will leave school to marry Marella Scotte, one of those tall blonde creatures who are living denials of the theory that it's the woman who pays and pays and pays.

Ann Weaver, a sister of Bud is enamored of a pansy by the name of Kerry Van Kind who admits to being an actor but is in reality a salesman for a gyp histrionic school. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver are the type of married couple who should have been married by the Secretary of War, with Mr. Weaver having a stock salesman psychosis. One word from a stock salesman and his fountain pen is wriggling out of his vest. Into all these various and sundry complications comes Bud's English professor, Bradley Clement who proceeds to spoil the Egyptians, that is to say cheats the cheaters, gets the family out of all their troubles, and haven't you guessed it yet, falls in love with the daughter, Ann.

Eight Leads

Ordianrily a play has one or two leads, a couple of sub-leads and a sprinkling of characters that blend in with the wall paper. "Take My Advice" has eight parts and every part imported. Hence the necessity of a good cast from top to bottom.

The part of Bud Weaver was taken by Amil Lelenko and probably few high school players have ever been cast for a part that fit the player quite so snugly. The part is that of a personable young collegian, who figures the world is his oyster. Lelenko didn't have to act to play the part, just be natural, and he was, to the delight of the audience.

His sister, Ann Weaver, was taken by Peggy Prowitt who has that winsomeness that is responsible for the continued good business in the marriage license bureau.

Jim Thayer, a slicker who sells oil stock was taken by William Wheeler. The type of salesman partly responsible for the depression but a plausible rascal.

Kerry Van Kind, a ham actor with a pansy manner was Jack Griffith. Something new for high school theatricals but the young man handled it well.

Joseph Weaver, the father was portrayed by James Sotus. Difficult for a youngster to portray a father's part but Sotus did it, due to a lot of ability and a makeup that was skillfully arranged.

Mrs. Weaver, the mother taken by Mary Louise Chip. A battling type of woman who dominates her husband. This young lady put an aggressiveness into her part that surely comes from her father, and there was a time when his aggressiveness was known from Sidney to Southampton.

Bradley Clement, an English professor, taken by Yale Kaplan. A part requiring poise, finesse, and a speaking voice that carries conviction. There you have Kaplan.

Marella Scotte, one of those clinging women whose point of attachment is the pocketbook, taken by Frances Aiken. If we didn't know the young lady in person we might have suspected she wasn't acting.

There you have the cast and the play. Nothing heavy, nothing involved, just a light comedy built for laugh producing purposes, and presented by a cast that knew what it took. Another win for Miss Clara Hartsuff.

During intermissions the Senior High School orchestra played under the direction of Joseph Replogle. Did nicely too.

At the close of the play Miss Hartsuff was the recipient of a box of flowers which she deserved. If the cast of the play cares to take any part of this article floriculturally, they can make it gardenias for themselves.

The crowd was big, something a trifle out of the ordinary lately. And did they enjoy it?

mittee this morning, and prospects were that he, too, would sell his colleagues on a bi-partisan drive to enact the emergency program.

To Aid Business

It is proposed to increase the capitalization of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation by $1,500,000,000. Of this, up to $300,000,000 would be loaned to the states—with their bonds as security—to augment private organizations and local communities in relieving distress.

The remainder would be available as secured loans to public bodies or private interests from construction of such "income-producing and self-sustaining enterprises" as electrified railroad systems, toll bridges and tunnels and hydro-electro developments.

If Robinson is successful in winning over his party representatives he will immediately introduce the bill that he and Mr. Hoover agreed upon. The senate banking and currency committee stood ready to begin its consideration today. By agreement of the floor leaders it will be the first business after the budget has been balanced.

In accepting this compromise, Robinson drops his demand for a two billion-dollar Federal bond issue for construction and another $300,000,000 issue for direct relief. The President withdraws from his previous stand against use of government money for aid of the destitute. The opening bi-partisan agreements were reached yesterday following a series of White House conferences in which Robinson met with administration leaders. Later Mr. Hoover canvassed Republican members of the banking and currency committee. Robinson had one meeting with his steering committee last night.

avoid doing anything which might jeopardize the life of the child. Now there is no need for further consideration and Schwarzkopf and his aids are grimly determined to get all possible information from Condon and Curtis which might be of value in the hunt for the kidnapers and murderers of the Lindbergh child.

Condon, who was the "Jafsie" of the various mysteriously worded advertisements in the case and Curtis, the Norfolk shipbuilder who claimed to have contacted the kidnapers, arrived at the Lindbergh home shortly after midnight in a terrific downpour of rain.

All night long Schwarzkopf questioned them in an effort to find some clue to the identity of the men with whom they had been dealing.

Stock Market Hearings Will Be Continued

Senator Norbeck, Says, "Rotten Practices Of Gypping Public Uncovered"

SPECIAL COUNSEL HAS NEW EVIDENCE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Declaring "rotten practices robbing the public" have been unearthed, Senator Norbeck (R) of South Dakota, said today the Senate Banking Committee, of which he is chairman, would resume public hearings on its investigation of the New York Stock Market next Thursday.

Norbeck made the announcement following a private session of the Steering committee during which William A. Gray, special counsel for the committee, gave the results of his two weeks' examination of New York brokers records.

"Gray is working on ten or twelve cases and has uncovered plenty of evidence of rotten practices for robbing the public," Norbeck said. "We have decided to reopen the hearings next Thursday and some of these cases will be disclosed then."

Norbeck said a number of the brokers were reluctant to give Gray the information he desired.

"In plain language, they were told they could come through with it or come down with their books," Norbeck said. "They finally capitulated."

(BULLETIN)

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 13.—Every law enforcement agency in the United States was mobilized today in the greatest man hunt in history in a grimly determined effort to solve and avenge the wanton murder of the baby son of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

While the pathetic form of the baby lay in a Trenton undertaking parlor and tragedy enveloped the home of the "Lone Eagle"—five miles from where the body was found in a clump of bushes near the roadside—the law, long restrained by the forlorn hope the child might be found alive, was galvanized into action.

Dr. John F. ("Jafsie") Condon, university professor of New York City, who negotiated with the supposed kidnapers in the hoax by which Colonel Lindbergh was swindled of $50,000 and John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk, Va., shipbuilder, who for weeks tried to contact the abductors, in another area, were questioned by Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the New Jersey state police, at the temporary headquarters near Hopewell and then turned over to Prosecutor Erwin E. Marshall of Mercer county for further grilling.

Colonel Schwarzkopf emphasized that neither Professor Condon nor Curtis were under arrest. They were being questioned for the purpose of obtaining "leads" that would aid the police in tracing down the kidnaper-killers.

Condon and Curtis Give Facts.

It was said that both Condon and Curtis voluntarily went to Hopewell to render all the assistance they could to the police.

Colonel Lindbergh himself was reported to be with the authorities at Hopewell doing all he could to help solve the case. The colonel for days past has been away on a secret mission on which he had hoped might result in a contact with the kidnapers and the return of his baby.

Schwarzkopf revealed that Dr. Condon and Curtis were to be questioned in an official bulletin today. The announcement said:

"Dr. Condon and Mr. Curtis will be at these headquarters (at Hopewell) in a few minutes for questioning in connection with this case, and they will be turned over by the police authorities at this point to the prosecuting authorities this morning.

Questioned further by newspaper men, Schwarzkopf amplified the statement to this extent:

"The men are being questioned, and will be questioned by the prosecutor. They are not under arrest."

An automobile, recognized as the one that had been used by Curtis on previous visits to the Lindbergh estate, was seen headed up the road in the vicinity of Hopewell soon after the Schwarzkopf bulletin was issued. It carried at least four men and Dr. Condon and Curtis were believed to be among them.

It was reported that a man resembling Colonel Lindbergh was also in the car but International News Service could not immediately establish that to be a fact.

Deaths of the Day

Grant Jones.

Grant Jones, lifelong resident of Portersville, passed away at his home in that place at 3:30 p. m., Thursday, May 12, 1932, following an illness of one day. He was born in Portersville, the son of James and Rebecca Jones, and was 61 years of age.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church of Portersville and was well known and highly respected.

Mr. Jones leaves his widow, Mrs. Martha Boyd Jones and the following children, Jonathan, Leroy and Joseph Jones, of Portersville, Mrs. Clara Gilbert and Mrs. Robert Alben of Portersville, Mrs. Alice Morgan of Ellwood City, Clarence, Elsie and Ethel Jones at home, also the following brothers and sisters, Edward Jones of New Castle, Lincoln Jones of Preston, Pa., Isaac Jones of Portersville, William Jones, New Castle, Mrs. Sarah Taylor of Youngstown, and Mrs. Nancy Wimer of Portersville station.

Mrs. Pauline Owens

Mrs. Pauline Owens, wife of William Owens, passed away Friday, May 13, 1932, at two a. m. at her home, 715 Arlington avenue, following a brief illness which followed a stroke. She had been in her usual health and was downtown Thursday afternoon and was taken suddenly sick on her way home with what was apparently a stroke. She was removed to her home, where she died several hours later.

Mrs. Owens was born in Germany May 17, 1871, the daughter of William and Margaret Luking, being within a few days of being 61 years of age. She had been a resident of this city for the past 32 years and was widely known and loved and respected by all who knew her. Her death comes as a shock, not only to the members of her family, but also all who knew her in life.

She was a faithful member of the Central Christian church, taking an active part in all its activities, including the Ladies' Loyal Bible class. She was also a member of the Ladies of the Golden Eagle.

She leaves her husband and two sisters, Mrs. U. B. Smith of Elyria, O., and Mrs. Hermine Birkenfeld, of Duquesne, Pa.

Funeral services will be held at the late residence, 715 Arlington avenue, on Monday, May 16, 1932, at two p. m., with her pastor, Rev. Charles Warren Johnstone, in charge. Interment will be made in Graceland cemetery.

Pinchot Says State Would Not Benefit

Governor Claims State Could Not Accept More Than Million From Government

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 13.—Proposals now being considered in Washington through which the federal government would make loans for unemployment relief directly to the state would not benefit Pennsylvania, Governor Gifford Pinchot said today.

The commonwealth may not incur indebtedness in excess of $1,000,000 without a constitutional amendment.

The governor outlined the situation as it affects Pennsylvania in a letter to Senator James J. Davis, who has sponsored a bill for $500,000,000 in federal funds to be loaned to the states for unemployment relief.

"Article IX, section 4, of the constitution provides that the state shall incur no debt beyond one million dollars except to repel invasion, suppress insurrection or defend the state in war.

"In its recent decision on the Talbot bill the supreme court of Pennsylvania applied this provision. For this reason no money for unemployment relief offered to the commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a loan can be accepted. Accordingly, your bill, if drawn as the newspapers represent, while it might be of assistance to other states, would be of none to Pennsylvania."

time the body was discovered Col. Lindbergh was on a boat off the Jersey shore at Cape May, N. J., in preparation for another attempt to accomplish the delivery of the baby through a contact with the kidnapers at sea.

"Immediate steps were taken to communicate with him and as soon as he received the information he started on the return trip to Hopewell.

"While the kidnaping was committed in Hunterdon county, the finding of the body of the murdered baby occurred in Mercer county. The attorney general assisting in the prosecution of the case in Hunterdon county is cooperating directly with Prosecutor Marshall of Mercer county and these authorities are working jointly at this time.

Secure Information.

"There was a conference between the police authority at this point and the joint prosecuting authorities at Hopewell last night and there probably will be further conferences as developments progress.

"Statements were taken from Dr. Condon and Mr. Curtis during the night as well as a number of other people purporting to have information. A considerable amount of information was obtained and is being followed up at the present time.

"As soon as Colonel Lindbergh announces the funeral arrangements we will issue a special bulletin giving his announcement."

she was snatched up by a gang of abductors as she drove toward Pilcher Park bridle path Sunday morning, Miss Lane stated. Her abductors kicked and beat her and tore her riding habit to shreds during her incarceration in a remote farmhouse.

Mis Lane said she was placed on a starvation diet while her tormentors demanded that she arrange to turn over $3,000 in securities.

least two months," he said, "and it ....was murder."

He revealed that the child might have been killed by a blow on the head or by pistol fire.

The skull was completely crushed.

The sight of that pitiful figure which she had once nursed was too much for Betty Gow, who aided in the identification. As she left the morgue she uttered a piteous cry:

"God, it's too terrible."

She swayed against the state trooper who had escorted her to Trenton and then was half lifted into the big closed car which was to take her back to the white house on the hill top—the house of sorrow.

Prominent Erie Man Is Suicide

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., May 13.—Richard Kinzies, 68, prominent furrier here, died as the result of a self-inflicted wound, a verdict returned today by Coroner Walter G. Stroble declared.

Kinzies was found fatally wounded on the sidewalk outside his place of business. No motive for the suicide could be determined.

JUNIOR COUNCIL CLOSES YEAR

A lovely meeting was held by the New Castle Junior Council Wednesday evening in the vestry rooms of Temple Israel, this being the final session of the year. Miss Rose Safier presided as chairman in the absence of Mrs. A. Keizler, nee Josephine Levine, president of the organization.

Reports of the following chairmen were heard: Dance, Julia Levy; program, Mae Bloom; social service, Violet Marlin; peace and religion, Sara Blau; publicity, Dora Winick; scholarship, Jean Rabinovitz; membership, Bessie Kulkin; hospitality and sick, Rose Gusky; athletic, Rose Blau; telephone, Mamie Frank. Also, reports from the following officers were read at this time: President, Mrs. Josephine Keizler; vice president, Rose Safier; corresponding secretary, Annabelle Prinsky; recording secretary, Dorothy Fisher; treasurer, Rheba Frank.

Officers elected for the forthcoming year are, namely: President, Florence Shapo; first vice, Rosalyn Safier; second vice, Bessie Kulkin; recording secretary, Rose Gusky; corresponding secretary, Mary Pittler; treasurer, Rheba Frank.

Miss Florence Shapo was elected delegate to the Junior Council national convention to be held October 29 and 30 in Philadelphia.

Miss Dora Winick was appointed summer activities chairman and Miss Rose Gusky chairman of the annual camp project with Misses Rose Solomon and Dora Winick as her aides.

The speaker of the evening was Rabbi A. Grossfeld, who gave a very interesting interpretation of a timely subject. Following this, dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses, Rose Gusky and Lillian Fishkin, and a very interesting council year was brought to a close.

MANY TO ATTEND D. A. C. MEETING

Many from this city are planning to attend the meeting of the Daughters of the American Colonists to be held on Saturday, May 14, at the home of Mrs. E. S. Hoops, who resides on East End avenue, Beaver, Pa.

The session will begin at 11 o'clock in the morning D. S. T. and an interesting program in charge of the Beaver members will be the feature.

WASHINGTON TEA BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Patriotic colors and novelties suggestive of the bi-centennial were used profusely Thursday evening when the members of the L. L. O. I. 129 entertained their members and friends at a Martha Washington tea in the Clendennin building.

Twenty-five tables were presided over by the women of lodge 129 and four tables were presided over by Mrs. Henrietta Davis, Mrs. Rachel Reynolds, William Marsh and Mrs. Helen Ray of lodge 24.

The program of the evening opened with Mrs. Homer Houk presenting a number of players from the Calvary Presbyterian church in a playlet, "The Country School" and a Tom Thumb wedding. A string duet by Messrs Woodruff and Billit was enjoyed . Sonny and Dorothy Truby entertained with songs and dances; E. Bach had a violin number, accompanied by Miss Johns; Dorothy Truby had a song and tap dance, and she and Frank Taylor had an adagio dance; Beryl Morgan, accompanied by her father, sang a number of solos; Nina Strong and Helen Humme had dancing numbers; Lemuel Wine and Joe Fletcher recitations.

At the conclusion of the program the hostesses served their guests dainty refreshments.

Club Organized

The Harrison Street Girls Club, recently organized and which composes residents of Harrison street, met Wednesday evening at the home of Jean and Betty Wright. The hours were spent with games of various kinds and music, and during the short business session that preceded the following officers were elected: president, Thelma Clark; first-vice, Jean Loveridge; second-vice, Jeanne Wright; secretary, Lenora Potter; treasurer, Saline Mack; program committee, Betty Wright and Shirley Potter.

The hostess' mother then served a dainty lunch.

In two weeks Lenora and Shirley Potter of Harrison street will be joint hostesses.

Spring Party

Plans have been completed for the spring party to be given by the Guild of the First Methodist church, in the home of Mrs. H. C. Weaver, Clenmore boulevard, Tuesday, May 17, from 2 to 5 p. m.

FIELD CLUB BRIDGE EVENT OF THURSDAY

Members of the New Castle Field Club gathered at the club rooms Thursday evening for another of their bridge parties. A large number were in attendance, and after the contest which was in progress at 8:30 o'clock prizes were presented to Mrs. F. F. Hyde, Mrs. R. M. Garland, James B. Matthews and Dr. C. F. McDowell. Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

LUNCHEON EVENT FOR RETIRING PASTORS

The New Castle Ministerial Association has arranged a luncheon event for Thursday, May 19, in the Y. W. C. A. at 12:30, at which time the members will honor two retiring pastors, Dr. C. J. Williamson, former pastor of the Highland United Presbyterian church, and Dr. A. J. Randles, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, whose resignation takes effect June 1.

Both Dr. Williamson and Dr. Randles have been pastors of the local churches for many years and the new work they are taking up will take both families to Pittsburgh.

This event had formerly been planned for Monday, May 23, but it was found necessary to change the date.

STEPHENSON CIRCLE AT DOUTHETT HOME

The home of Mrs. J. C. B. Douthett, 821 Lutton street, was the meeting place of the members of the Stephenson Circle of the First Methodist church Thursday evening, with Mrs. John Emery in charge of the meeting.

A pleasing program was presented, with piano numbers by Camilla Smith and Margaret Jones, a duet by Misses Clara Alice Mitchell and Margaret Preston and a story from the Missionary Friend by Mrs. J. C. Pherson.

Miss Hester Hainer led the study book discussion, after which Mrs. H. C. Warner and her group acted as hostesses and served refreshments.

Mrs. John Butler of Sharon, Mrs. H. L. McCurdy and Mrs. S. L. Maxwell were special guests.

KAPPA DELTA MEMBERS EVENT AT FIELD CLUB

On Saturday evening, members of the Kappa Delta Sorority of Westminster College, will gather at the New Castle Field Club house for their annual spring formal dinner-dance. A large number is expected to participate on this occasion.

Dinner will be served in the club dining room at 7 o'clock at tables appropriately decorated, and from 8 to 12 o'clock dancing will be in vogue to a program of pleasing music.

DI BIASIO-FIRE MARRIAGE PERFORMED

A pretty wedding took place Thursday morning at St. Vitus church at 9:30 o'clock when Miss Angeline Di Biasio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Di Biasio became the bride of Harry Fire, son of Charles Fire of Struthers, Ohio.

Before a large gathering of friends and relatives of the couple, the Rev. Fr. Demita, pastor, officiated at the nuptial mass.

The bride who was becoming in a gown of white satin, had as her attendants, Miss Concetta Zumpella as maid of honor, and the following bride's maids, Lucy Fire, Nancy Scarazzo, Mary Thomas, Julia Isabell, Florence Piccari and Nellie Audino, who wore frocks complimentary to the bridal white with accessories to match.

Peter Sparano served as best man, and Mary Jane Gallonia acted as guide, Anita Rita Sacco as traine bearer and Ralph Litrenta as ring bearer. Ushers were John Volpe, Guy Colella, Charles Micco, Charles Audino, Guido Scarazzo and Marion Labiano.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the home of the brides parents to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Ben French, Mr. and Mrs. Carm Sacco, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Litreuta, Charles Fire, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cassella, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sparano of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bantan of Detroit, Mich., Louis Locanta, of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fire of Lowellville, Mr. and Mrs. James Fire of Youngstown, O., Mr. and Mrs. Pat Fyre and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gallonio of Beaver Falls. A reception at Humbert Hall was held in the evening.

The couple left later for a wedding trip to New York, and upon their return will reside in this city at the residence of the brides parents.

TEACHERS TUREEN DELIGHTFUL EVENT

The teachers of the Arthur Magill school enjoyed a "good fellowship" party Wednesday evening when they gathered in the Nature room for a tureen dinner, having as their special guests, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Leslie and Miss Ruth Milady, the latter a student instructress.

At 6:30 o'clock, a delicious menu was served at tables cleverly arranged and appointed in tones suggestive of the season. Favors, place cards and other novelties further expressed the same appointments. Places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Leslie, Miss Milady, Misses Margaret Preston, Lucille McConnell, Margaret Reed, Lania Niem, Levinah Stewart, Mildred Burelson, Ella McWilliams, Martha Faller, Kate Stockman, Helen Maxwell, Anna McClure, Minnie Croxall, Lucy Daubenspeck and Ruth Wilson.

A theatre party concluded the evening's entertainment.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL GIRL WINS CONTEST

It will be of interest to many to learn that Miss Clairbelle Flynn of the Home Economics Department of the New Castle Senior High School won the prize for the two-hundred word essay on "The Advantages of Improving One's Property at the Present Time."

The contest was sponsored by the Home Department of the Federation of Women's Clubs of which Mrs. Harry Marshall, Sr., is chairlady and also donor of the five dollar prize.

Miss Flora Ellen Martin, Miss Julia Furst and Mrs. Jean Rummel Henley acted as judges.

MEXICAN DINNER TO FEATURE EVENING

Old Mexico will figure largely in the dinner and program arrangements for Sunday evening in the Beth Shalom Center, Boyles avenue.

At 6:30 a Mexican menu will be served and the after dinner program will carry out the Mexican fashion. Especially pleasing will be the Mexican tap dance by Augustine Leone and Ruth Phillips, accompanied by Nellie Brady.

Mrs. Louis Kohn is in charge of the general arrangements for the event.

Mrs. McCaskey Hostess

Mrs. J. L. McCaskey of East Washington street proved a pleasing hostess Thursday evening to associates of the Lotus Kensington when they assembled for a social time. Tables of 500 were in play, as the pastime, and later a dainty lunch served by Mrs. McCaskey assisted by Mrs. D. W. Byers marked the closing feature.

On Wednesday, May 25, instead of Thursday, the regular day, Mrs. Eliza Little of 1418 Croton avenue will entertain.

Class Dinner

The members of the J. O. Y. class of the First Baptist church were most pleasing hostesses Thursday evening when they entertained their husbands at a dinner in the dining room of the church.

A large bowl of lilacs centered the table, the appointments were carried out in pink and white, and places were arranged for forty.

Two humorous playlets were presented after dinner and games of novel character featured a social period.

RAINBOW GIRLS PLANS COMPLETED

On Wednesday evening, May 18 Miss Louise McCoy will be installed worth advisor of the New Castle Assembly No. 1, Order of the Rainbow for Girls. The ceremony will take place in the east lodge room of the Cathedral.

Plans are complete for an outstanding ceremonial with Miss Dorothy Young as installing officer. There will be a complete corps of officers installed at this meeting.

The installation is opened to all Eastern Stars, members of the Masonic order and the general public, and will open at 8 o'clock.

Hostesses on this occasion will include all past Mother Advisors with Mrs. Lenore Urey in charge.

Miss Mary Bigley, chairman of the refreshment committee and her aides will serve tasty refreshments at the close of the evening.

MRS. A. R. KERR ENTERTAINS WOMEN

The home of Mrs. A. R. Kerr, North Beaver street, was the scene of a happy gathering Thursday afternoon, when she entertained the members of the Women's Missionary Society and the Mary English Bible class of the First Presbyterian church. The home was beautifully decorated with spring flowers in pink and white, which colors were also carried out in the refreshment appointments.

Mrs. Mary Hutchison, Mrs. Margaret Hunt, Mrs. S. S. Myers, Mrs. J. Sechler, Mrs. F. S. McCreary and Eliza Jane Buchanan were special guests.

Mrs. S. E. McCleary led the business meeting and Mrs. Fred Gillespie was program leader for the afternoon. Reports of the Presbyterian convention were given by Mrs. Mary Long and Mrs. Martha Patterson.

Mrs. Mary Elder, Richelieu avenue, will be hostess to the members for the June meeting.

A delicious tray lunch was served by Mrs. Ola Crill and Eliza Jane Buchanan.

B. Y. C. CLUB TO HAVE DINNER PARTY

Mrs. Walter Gross on Richelieu avenue entertained in a delightful manner, members of the B. Y. C. Club in her home Thursday evening. Bridge was the feature pastime, with lovely prizes being awarded to Mrs. William Fox and Mrs. Herbert Rose for capturing honors.

During the business period, plans were made for a dinner party to be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Martin Mills on Boyles avenue. Husbands of the members will be special guests on this occasion.

Lunch was served at a late hour by the hostess with the Mesdames Fox and Rose assisting.

L. A. B. Club.

Mrs. Wilbur Jones, Butler road, was hostess Thursday evening to the L. A. B. club members in her home. Cards were played and prizes won by Mrs. J. W. Sweet and I. A. Taylor for honors. Later, a tasty repast was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. H. G. Smith and little Ruth Smith. The house was beautifully decorated with bouquets of garden flowers.

Mrs. H. B. Ray was a special guest of the occasion.

Merry Maidens Club

The Merry Maidens Club were pleasingly received Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Leona Sankey on Garfield avenue for their usual social session. Bridge formed the pastime, lovely prizes being awarded to Miss Margaret Vogan and Mrs. William Twaddle. At a suitable hour the hostess served a tempting lunch, the small tables being re-arranged for this purpose.

In two weeks Miss Martha Jenkins on Adams street will receive club.

MISSIONARIES ARE GUESTS OF HONOR

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Anderson, of Morris street, entertained at a gathering Tuesday evening in their home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gustafson and children who have recently returned from India, where Mr. and Mrs. Gustafson are engaged in missionary work. Fifty members of the congregation of the Hoover Heights church were present. A program was arranged for the evening's entertainment which was as follows:

Duet—Mrs. Ronald Anderson and Miss Marion Anderson.

Reading—Grace Patterson.

Piano solo—Theda Gooch.

Remarks—Mr. Gustafson.

At a seasonable hour, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Paul Baldwin, Mrs. Charles Brinton, Grace Patterson, Ruth Locke and Marion Anderson.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER EVENT AT CROTON

An elaborate Mother-Daughter banquet has been arranged by the Croton Avenue Methodist church, to be held Thursday evening, May 19, in the form of a tureen dinner.

Leona Nolan and Eve Nicklin are arranging the program, which will be of an unusual type; the tables and dining room will be decorated by Mrs. C. Campbell, Mrs. R. Gormley and Mrs. F. Doerr.

The dinner committee will include Mrs. B. James, Mrs. H. Lackey and Mrs. F. McEwen, who are planning a delicious menu.

T. A. B. MEMBERS LUNCHEON GUESTS

Mrs. Charles Freeman of Fairmont avenue entertained members of the T. A. B. club in her home on Thursday afternoon at a beautifully appointed 1 o'clock luncheon. After a tasty menu had been served, the hours were devoted to card play, bridge being selected. Prizes in this went to Mrs. Harry Garland and Mrs. Roy Wish.

Mrs. P. P. Capitola was a special guest of the evening.

In two weeks Mrs. Frank Cray of Winslow avenue will be hostess.

THE LINDBERGH TRAGEDY

FEARS of thousands of American people that the kidnaped son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh had been killed, were proven tragically all too true, late yesterday, when the ghastly find was made about six miles from the home of the Lindbergh's of the remains of the little curly headed boy.

It is apparent that the child was brutally slain very shortly after being kidnaped from his home, probably the same night.

The shocking news that was flashed around the world last night, has aroused the sympathy and indignation of the nation as nothing that has happened in many years.

Sympathy goes out from every home in America to the bereaved parents who have been under a strain since the first of March that it is extremely difficult for any to completely sense. Both Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh have shown remarkable courage in the face of the terrible situation.

But, even sympathy of a nation can in no sense compensate for the loss of their child.

There remains but one thing to be done, and that is to get the fiends who stole that baby from its crib and murdered him. Such a dastardly and fiendish crime is a challenge to every law agency in this entire nation, and there should be no let up until these fiends are captured and have paid the extreme penalty for their terrible work. And just what such a penalty should be is hard to sufficiently conjecture.

With the fate of the child definitely determined, the police and detectives are working under no handicap, but are free to pursue any means whatsoever to run down the murderers.

And there must be no failure.

TROUBLESOME ALIENS

It is reported that Great Britain is having more trouble with the muskrat imported from America than this country has ever suffered from the vulgar little English sparrow. It was about five years ago that some enterprising Britisher had the happy thought to take native American muskrat to England and establish farms to produce the fur commercially.

The enterprise started as planned, but some of the animals escaped and ran wild, multiplying as rapidly outside of captivity as in their cages. The result has been the development of a new menace to river and canal embankments, where the wild muskrats dig innumerable tunnels. Extensive and serious floods in one region are directly blamed on muskrat activities.

On May 1 a law became effective which outlawed muskrats not properly confined to licensed colonies. "Free" muskrats, wherever found, are to be reported and destroyed.

It is strange what transplanting does to wild creatures. One never hears of English sparrow problems in Great Britain or of muskrat menaces on our side. Here is some sort of warning against meddling too much with nature.

THE DEADLY HALF-TRUTH

The safest refuge of falsity is the half-truth. A doctrine or argument that is apparently reasonable, rational and fully confirmed may be fundamentally false because it denies wider evidence or a more universal reality.

Most of the delusions of the past owed their brief power to the fact that men were unable to see beyond them. They were rarely cherished for the sake of their appeal to unworthy appetites, but men honestly believed in them and found all needful evidence to confirm them. The worst offense of their adherents was that they tried to set limits to the truth.

Men have not much changed, and the confusion of modern theories and beliefs proves it. There can be only one truth, yet there are a thousand claimants to it. Most of them have not escaped the medieval habit of ingeniously contriving a theory which meets the evidence but ignores the broad denials of superior law and experience.

There is a fatal fascination in an ingenious theory which fits a handful of evidence. But honest thought is not content until a theory has stood the test of all its consequences. Most modern doctrines cannot endure this test and insist instead that knowledge can be interpreted in sections. At best they are half-truths; at worst they are dangerous falsities.

Stubborness Isn't Character
It Turns Us to Stone
Makes Us Ridiculous

By MARSHALL MASLIN

A woman in a poem says to a man, "You can't take me against my will. No; I won't go. Do you think you're God, and we have to do what you want?"

The man said, "You'll go, all right."

The woman laughed and replied:

"At last you've struck something
Stiffer than you, Reave, that stubborn will
Is not strength but disease, I've always known it, like the slow limy sickness
You hear about, that turns a man's flesh to bone,
The willing muscles and fibers little by little
Grow hard and helpless, at last you can't dent them, nothing will move,
He lands in a tent beside a circus, with a painting of him
Over the door and people pay ten cents
To see the petrified man: that's your stubbornness,
Your mind sets and can't change, you don't go on Because you want to but because you have to. I pity you,
But here you've stopped."

Robinson Jeffers, our American poet, who lives in a stone house beside the Pacific ocean, whote those words in "Thurso's Landing".

He understands. So do all the rest of us—how a man or a woman sometimes confuses the disease of stubbornness with the health of character.

We hate stubbornness in other people. We fear it in ourselves, so we say that our own stubbornness is merely a Strong Will—and everybody knows that a Strong Will is a good thing to have. All the good, all the great, have strong wills—courage, persistence, faith, unaltering determination, firmness of character Strong Wills.

We hold our weakness to the light and find it clear and unflecked by dust or meanness, and call it strength. We drink deep of our own self-deception and turn to stone.

Is that a foolish thought? No, that happens when we confuse our own qualities, when we lie to ourselves, when we are too eager for the praise of the world, too unwilling to face the slightest defect in our natures—when we think that our stubbornness is not disease, but strength. Then we turn slowly to stone.

YOUR MIND

How about making definite plans for the next day, during the evening?

Do you drift from one day to the other with your work?

No definite plan laid out in advance—just a routine machine, is that you?

No thought given to improvement in your production, means going backward.

Or are you one of those employes who is "not paid to think."

Have you carried this spirit so long that you find sustained thought almost impossible on any subject?

Even in the games you play, you realize that you might be a better player, if you were willing to concentrate as do the others who are more expert.

But you are unwilling to exert control over your mind enough to give full attention to what you are doing.

You do not like to think because it entails effort and so you just jog along through life, from one day to another, almost aimlessly.

Thus you have wasted what might have been to you a faithful servant.

Your mind would serve you more and more with the year.

It is only disuse that slows up and dulls the mind.

The more you make your brain work the more capable it is of working.

Cultivate the greatest power you have on earth, your mind.

Finally the clerk got peeved, so one morning he asked him if he'd mind lighting his cigarette at the front lighter so as not to jostle the customers. To this the chap replied "Do you know who I am? and walked out. As usual on the following day he used the rear lighter, pushing the customers on his way out. The clerk again said, "Would you mind using the front lighter so as not to disturb the customers?" Getting the reply "Do you know who I am?" This occurred a few days more. Finally, the clerk said to him "I asked you to use the lighter in the front of the store so as not to disturb the customers." And again he received the reply, "Do you know who I am?" To this the clerk replied, "No who are you?" The chap answered "Well. I'm the guy who lights his cigarette every morning at the lighter in the rear of your store." And walked out.

THE BEST SHIP CAN'T WEATHER A STORM IF EVERYBODY TAKES TO THE LIFE-BOATS

Bank depositors ruin themselves

The chief security of their deposits is their own faith and by losing faith they destroy the foundation of the whole banking system.

No bank is stronger than the faith of its depositors.

There isn't a bank in America that could remain open in the best of times if all of its depositors lost faith in its security; and, by the same token, nothing but theft or criminal carelessness can break the ordinary bank in time of depression if depositors keep their faith.

"He who would save his life shall lose it' was spoken of the soul, but it is equally true of money in banks.

The explanation lies in the fact that the actual sum of money in existence is only a fraction of the sum deposited in banks.

The total sum of money in America, outside of the Treasury, is less than eight billion dollars; yet in ordinary times the banks have eight times as much to the credit of their depositors.

How can the banks hold 55 to 60 billion of deposits when the total sum of money in the land is but a fraction over seven billion?

The answer is that money circulates.

When you deposit a thousand dollars in a bank, the money isn't locked in a vault to await your return. If banks functioned that way all of the money would be in storage and there would be nothing to do business with.

The bank lends your money, taking ample security to make the loan safe, and thus makes the profit that enables it to serve you. The bank keeps enough cash on hand to meet the ordinary demands of its depositors, but it lends as much as it safely can— keeping the money busy so that each dollar in the course of a day does the work of twenty or thirty or forty.

If all depositors demand money at once, the bank must close its doors. The money is safe, but it is loaned to Tom, Dick and Harry and can't be received until it is due

But if you and other depositors keep your faith and support the bank in its ordinary conduct of business, every dollar is as safe as steel vaults can make it.

No honest bank "fails." It merely continues business as usual until depositors fail in faith and thus destroy it and themselves.

Nation Shows Determination To Force Federal Economy

President Hoover's Demand Receives Much Approval, While Inadequate Measure For Reduced Expenditures Is Widely Condemned

Failure to produce an adequate economy measure for balancing the budget through a revision of taxes and reduction of governmental expenses has subjected the House of Representatives to severe criticism by the whole nation. Widely endorsed is the message of President Hoover, voicing the demand that the budget be equitably and swiftly balanced on a program dictated by national need, and not by minority groups or partisan politics, and denouncing tactics used by the House in its action on proposed revenue and appropriation bills.

With an attack upon lobbyists, the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR (Ind.) holds that "it is time that everyone should realize that the government of the United States is 'for the people.'" That paper contends: "The people, the interested parties in the present crisis, affecting not only their government, but the whole financial credit of the nation, will back the President. The Congress has listened too long to the lobbyists of special interests and groups, to the promptings of supposedly political interest. It is time it listened to the people."

"President Hoover's special message is one of the strongest of his public papers," declares the NEW YORK SUN (Ind.), with the conclusion: "The country, with the exception of the selfish groups that are willing to bankrupt the Treasury to fill their own pockets, will applaud Mr. Hoover's declaration of governmental necessities. It will indorse his demand that the budget be balanced, that a sane revenue bill be passed and that Federal expenses be reduced $700,000,000 a year. If anything can check the madness of Congress, this warning from the President should do it. He has shown the way to the restoration of public confidence in democratic government."

"Some Congress," in the opinion of the DES MOINES TRIBUNE (Ind. Rep.), "is going to have to get down to brass tacks in the very near future. If it is not to be the present Congress, the recovery will be agonizingly delayed and will be preceded by even greater distress." The OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES (Ind.) believes that "greed and timidity are the reasons many important economies were rejected or ignored," while the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION (Ind.) advises that "the 'salvation of the nation' is at stake," and believes that "the leadership is there in the person and the words of the President."

Suggesting that "President Hoover stood Congress up for inspection by the country," the CHATTANOOGA TIMES (Dem.) offers the appraisal: "In addition to the fact that it should spur Congress toward real economy, sane taxation and a balanced budget, the President's message is of tremendous political importance. It materially enhances his prestige as leader in the fight for reduced expenditures, equitable taxes and ordered finances, all of which are absolutely necessary to the welfare of the country, and through its emphasis on the record of the Democratic House it puts the Democrats on the defense."

"A runaway majority in the House is not inviting public esteem or confidence," says the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW (Rep.) while the NEWARK EVENING NEWS (Ind.), recognizing that the President "has gone over the head of the Congress to the people," asserts that "at the moment he stands out, in comparison with the Congress, like a voice crying in the wilderness." The CLEVELAND NEWS (Rep.) feels confident that "nonpartisan co-operation may be expected to assert itself when this knotty problem is finally solved."

"A budget balanced with taxes unrelieved by any economies of operation is not what the American people want," avers the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL (Ind.), while the BALTIMORE SUN (Ind. Dem.) calls the President's message "an unanswerable indictment," and the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN (Ind. Rep.) is convinced that "the sharp criticism echo judgments which the wiser leaders of Democracy have themselves passed on the Congressional performance." The CHICAGO DAILY NEWS (Ind.) concludes that the House economy bill was "the net result of an effort in which politics played a larger part than did patriotism." The OAKLAND TRIBUNE (Rep.) points to the fact that "there is a feeling that when the tax bill is out of the way, and if it comes near to balancing the budget, the beneficial efforts will be immediately aparent on business." Quoting charges against "organized minorities," the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS (Ind. Dem.) exclaims: "How many a time has the thinking citizen been alarmed by the disproportionate influence of a small but clamorous group at Washington, as well as nearer home?"

Considering the loss that may come to government employes, the KANSAS CITY STAR (Ind.) says: "To the greatest extent consistent with the necessary results, employees should be retained, by whatever means best calculated to reduce cost at the same time. But government activities must be curtailed. The so-called 'fixed charges' cannot be permitted to stand in the way. There are few government expenditures beyond the requirements of the national debt that cannot be reduced."

"It would have been wiser," in the opinion of the CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST (Dem.), "to pass a tax bill that provided for the entire deficit and then, in addition, make an effort to obtain reductions in expenditures. Events have proved that such an effort would have been hardly more unsuccessful than that which has been made and in any event the financial institutions of the nation would have been able to plan their operations with the knowledge that the budget had been balanced."

Reviewing the course of events, the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL (Ind.) voices the criticism of the President's position: "President Hoover assails the House, which has it coming. But he can't assail it with any effect because he cannot point to any plan or program that his followers in Congress have been following. He can't point to any plan that he has offered except his insistence on reorganizing government departments his own way. There has been no presidential leadership that influenced his own partisans. And now Mr. Hoover, his back to the wall, hearing every day that he is blamed for everything, utters his ineffectual indictment."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

BIGGER AND BETTER

Only a few years ago, a truck of seven or eight tons carrying capacity was considered a giant in motor transportation. However the dimensions of three trucks and trailer combinations recently manufactured for use in the Madden Dam project in the Panama Canal Zone indicate the point to which truck size has now been developed.

Each of these three enormous vehicles is capable of hauling a forty-ton gross load at thirty-five miles per hour and, equipped with twelve forward speeds and three reverse speeds, can be handled with ease under the most severe operating conditions.

In shipping the chassis to have special bodies mounted, it was found that their dimensions were so great as to necessitate loading each truck in a separate freight car.

And yet railway managers act as though truck and motor bus transportation would eventually fail. These are just in their infancy and Mr. Railway Man had better wake up.

RETURN

Time was he used to scoff and sneer
And laugh at simple faith and creeds.
But now when there is much to fear
He finds 'tis simple faith he needs.

When all was well and skies were fair
In arrogance the path he strode;
But now alone he kneels in prayer
And asks for strength to bear the load.

He called old teachings dull and trite
And thought success held peace of mind;
But now when things aren't going right
He seeks the joys he left behind.

Though cruel are the hurt and pain
When once the flood of loss recedes,
Men may at last return again

Mahoning Book Club Gathering

New Officers Are Chosen By Club—Picnic Will Be Enjoyed Soon

The Mahoning Book Club's meeting of last night took place at the home of Mrs. M. L. Wallace, Highland avenue, and proved to be very pleasant.

In addition to the members there was a special guest present, Mrs. W. C. Mechem.

New officers were elected. They are: Mrs. D. C. Schnebly, president; Mrs. W. L. Jenkins, vice president; Mrs. J. C. Ramsey, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. George Cook, assistant.

Books were returned to their owners. Plans were outlined for a picnic which will be held at a later date, when husbands of the members will be guests.

VOLUNTEERS MEETING

A meeting of the seventh ward fire department volunteers is scheduled for next Tuesday evening, May 17, at the department building, corner Cherry and Cedar streets. The volunteers meet once a month.

BIBLE CLASS WILL HAVE PARK PICNIC

Nineteen members were present for the very interesting meeting of the S. C. W. Bible class of the Presbyterian church Thursday night in the home of Mrs. A. R. Mornes, W. Clayton street.

The meeting was commenced at 7:30 o'clock and the devotional period was followed by social chat and the serving of a delicious lunch. Mrs. Cunningham's section was in charge of the serving.

Plans were talked over for a breakfast at Cascade Park. This event will take place on Thursday, June 2.

Fine Work At Local Cemetery

Dozen Volunteers At Valley View Yesterday—Place Being Improved

Valley View cemetery, located a short distance north of West Clayton street, is being transformed from a drab neglected place to several acres of land unrivaled by any in New Castle. It is fast achieving the old beauty it had years ago.

Yesterday about twelve volunteer workers spent the day on the grounds, hauling away rubbish, raking the grounds and mowing the grass.

Lilac bushes are in bloom and the pretty, newly pruned trees stand out in picturesque relief. Several flower beds have been planted this spring. Grave markers have been righted, tool house moved, mauseleum repaired, and the workers are planning to lay crushed limestone on the roads and lanes leading through the grounds. This will be done very soon.

LOCAL WOMEN TO GO TO PITTSBURGH

Fifteen members of the Grand International auxiliary to the B. of L. E. will attend a union meeting Wednesday, May 25, at Pittsburgh, according to plans made at the Thursday afternoon meeting of the lodge, held in the city building.

The local representatives to the union meeting will take a part in the program. It is an all day meeting, and will include dinner and entertainment as well as business discussion.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mrs. William Walters and son, Billy, of Canton, O., are guests at the home of Mrs. Walter's mother, Mrs. Henry Jones, 212 West Cherry street.

Miss Sadie Diffley, of North Ashland avenue, returned to work at the Lingerlight Dairy Thursday after a short illness.

Mrs. Bernard O'Boyle, of West Wyoming, Pa., is a guest at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Jordan, of West Madison avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael MacKenzie, of Pittsburgh, were Thursday visitors in seventh ward.

Mrs. Gertrude Majors, of Ellwood City, visited her daughter, Miss Margaret Majors, this city, Thursday morning.

Walter Stone, of this ward, is confined to his home by illness.

Prize winners at the party in Lyceum hall, St. Margaret's church, Thursday evening are as follows: Mrs. Calvert, 500; John Coffey, euchre, and Master John Riemer, bingo.

EVERY WOMAN faces this question

"How do I look to other people?" If you have a lovely skin, attractive eyes, and plenty of enthusiasm, you need not worry.

So many women, though, risk their beauty by neglect of constipation. It often causes loss of pep, sallow skins, dull eyes, pimples.

Yet constipation can be overcome by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. This cereal provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B which tones the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Special cooking processes make it finer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming.

Surely this is safer than abusing the system with pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

LODGE ENJOYS DINNER PARTY

Youngstown And Sharon Auxiliaries Are Guests At Anniversary Meeting

With an attendance of 64 lodge members, the serving of a delicious dinner, followed by an extremely pleasant social program Thursday night's party given by the Mabel Wilson auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was one of the niecest ever held. The dinner party marked the 16th anniversary of the founding of the lodge.

Twenty three guests were present from the Martin Crane lodge of Sharon as well as twelve members of the Silver Star lodge of Youngstown.

Dinner was served at six o'clock daylight savings time on long, prettily decorated tables in the Knights of Malta hall. The lodge colors, red, white and green were used effectively in the trimmings and candles.

Dancing and card playing followed. Prizes for high scores were won in the following games by: Mrs. B. G. Freeburn, of Sharon and Mrs. R. J. Metzler, of New Castle, 500; Mrs. Maul Mulligan of Sharon and Mrs. Don Rochford, of Youngstown, bridge: and Mrs. Sara Frew of New Castle and Mrs. Anderson, of Sharon, bingo.

The committee members who so perfectly planned the evening are: Mrs. R. J. Metzler, Mrs. William Sapper, Mrs. William Pitzer, Mrs. D. R. Peterson, Mrs. E. M. Johnston, Mrs. William Ellgass, Mrs. C. R. McConnell, Mrs. W. G. Campbell, Mrs. Clarence Collingwood and Mrs. Rose Doone.

DINNER TONIGHT

The Men's and Women's Bible class of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church will have dinner at the church this evening.

Girl Scouts Are Selecting Their Most Perfect Girl

Final Examinations For Health Crusade Will Be Made Next Week

"The Most Perfect Girl" in New Castle's Girl Scout troops will be chosen by a local physician some time next week, according to announcement this morning from Miss Nance Pugh, Girl Scout director. This will be the climax to a "Health Crusade" which has been going on among the troops for many weeks.

Troops are completing their eliminations and in just a few days the fourteen Girl Scouts chosen for their health in the troops will be examined by a physician. Each troop is sending one representative for the final elimination.

The most perfect girl in each troop is being selected by different nurses.

Lincoln and Garfield troop will meet today after school to take health examinations. Troop 4 will meet at the Third United Presbyterian church tonight to get theirs.

PREACHER PUBLICITY

(International News Service)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn.—Arrested after a free-for-all fight at Salvation Army headquarters here, the Rev. Reuben Curran, freed on disorderly conduct charges, planned to cash in on his experiences. "This publicity has been a great thing for me," he said. "I'm going to start a revival right away."

NEW BEDFORD, Mass.—A seaplane line between New Bedford and the islands in Vineyard sound may be instituted during the summer season, it has been reliably reported. Negotiations are being carried on by New York interests, it was said.

SWEDISH TAILOR WOULD CUT DOWN ON BUTTONHOLES

(International News Service)

STOCKHOLM, May 13.—Dress reform for men, making their suits conform to the latest principles of modernism is launched by a Stockholm tailor, Oscar Lidwall, in the Swedish tailors' trade paper.

In Sweden the new ideas in architecture and interior decoration, involving the utmost simplicity, are very much in vogue. Mr. Lidwall thinks it is time to omit the unnecessary buttons and buttonholes, tucks and creases in men's suits.

Cuffs at the bottom of trousers he particularly condemns as not only unsightly and superfluous, but as downright unhygienic.

Men's suits, he says, should be as smooth and plain as possible, like the surfaces of the new apartment houses and office buildings. No balconies or fancy corners are allowed on modern homes, and the breast pockets on men's coats could just as well be omitted, he thinks. Likewise all pocket flaps and the useless cuff buttons on the sleeves. Fancy cloth patterns he also condemns.

Other Stockholm tailors are not so drastic. "If Lidwall has his way," remarks one of them, "we might as well go around in overalls and night shirts."

Legion Presents Medals To Two Boys On Thursday

Medal Winners Of St. Mary's And Union Township Get Their Awards

Two more eighth grade boys of the county were on Thursday awarded the Legion Educational Medals and certificates for outstanding ability as students and as boys.

The first of these awards was made in the morning at St. Mary's Parochial school by Major Guy J. Wadlinger, Dr. Martin McCann and James Brice, as the representatives of Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343, American Legion.

The boy receiving the award was James Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Barnes of 927 Beckford St. He was found to be the boy of that school with the highest standing in the five qualifications on which the giving of the awards is based.

Attorney W. J. Caldwell, Phi Greer and E. T. McKee were the representatives of Perry S. Gaston Post at the Union Twp. school at 9 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Here it was found that there were four boys with excellent standing and it was difficult to choose. Harry Mottinger was the final selection as he had the highest average in the five different classifications on which the giving of the awards is based.

Install Officers At Arthur McGill P. T. A. Meeting

Mrs. William L. Cosel Makes The Address Of The Evening

May meeting of the Arthur McGill School Parents-Teachers Association held last evening in the school was of special interest and was attended by a representative group of the members in spite of the very unfavorable weather.

The address of the evening was presented by Mrs. William L. Cosel, who had as her topic "Building the International Mind," in which she devoted some time to a discussion of the subject of World Peace and what it would mean to the world.

The meeting was opened with prayer and the singing of America, after which there was a business session, presided over by Mrs. H. N. Drio, the retiring president. The address of Mrs. Cosel was then given, after which the installation of officers for the ensuing year took place, with Mrs. Robert Magill acting as installing officer.

Officers installed were: President —Mrs. L. B. Calvin; vice president —Mrs. H. K. Bell; secretary—Mrs. John Street; treasurer—Miss Ella J. McWilliams.

P. H. C. Deputy Is Welcomed Wednesday

Tureen Dinner Is Given In Honor Of A. E. Beckett And Plans Made For Memorial

As a courtesy to A. E. Beckett, recently appointed Deputy for New Castle Circle No. 5 Protected Home Circle and state deputy M. M. Henlein of Erie, an honor guest, the tureen dinner held previous to the regular business session of the circle on Wednesday night, was just another delightful evidence of the culinary ability of Guardian Helen Ray, and her social committee Flora Cunningham, Hildred Back, Belle Kennedy, Kathryn Jaxtheimer, Katie Cowles and Anna Stephenson.

The tables in the dining room were beautiful in their appointments and the menu served, perfection itself. Past president, David Tucker, led in pep singing and at 8:00 President Harry Mehlman, called the circle to order for business.

The most important, perhaps, was regarding the memorial services for deceased members ,to be held on Sunday evening May 15, at 7:30, in the First Congregational church. The committee in charge include chairman, David Tucker, Mabel Tucker, Sentinel, Gladys Meilke, Katharyn Jaxtheimer, trustee, A. L. Conn secretary, Lillie B. Jones.

A feature of the impressive service will be the special vocal selection by the men's chorus of the Bible Class, the platform of the church being especially arranged for the impressive sermon. The memorial sermon, by Rev. Rees T. Williams, should be heard by every member of No. 5.

Officers and members will meet in the Sunday school room at the church at 7:00 sharp and attend in a body.

During the session of Wednesday night, State Deputy Henlein, gave one of his fine addresses and guardian, Helen Ray, presented our new deputy, A. E. Beckett, who was greeted with a shower of applause. Brother Beckett has a pleasing personality and with a complete knowledge of the work before him, has already gained the regard and confidence of the members.

Accountant George W. Muse added some of his witty thoughts and the session closed with the first card party of the series, the second to be held on Wednesday night May 18. Prizes captured at the first party were: ladies first prize for 500—Mary McFarland; ladies' second prize for 500—Belle Kennedy; men's first prize for 500—Frank Kennedy: men's second prize for 500—James Kennedy: bingo, first ladies—Millie Cunningham: bingo, second ladies—Nina Strong. Special prizes—Mrs. Will Galbreath, M. M. Henlein and A. L. Conn.

PHONE LINER CALLS TO SHORE SUCCESSFUL

(International News Service)

BERLIN, May 13.—Radio-telephone calls from aboard the North German Lloyds' record liner, "Bremen," to places scattered all over the globe were conducted successfully during the liner's recent trip from Germany to New York.

While ploughing the ocean at a full speed and at a distance of about 2,600 nautical miles from the nearest German radio station the "Bremen" established a radio telephone connection with Norddeich, the German station on the North Sea.

Norddeich switched the calls to Berlin and the main telegraph office by means of a short-wave sender relayed them to Nauen, Germany's most powerful inland station. Nauen succeeded in relaying the calls as far as Rio de Janeiro and Bangkok, Siam, where the understanding was perfect.

Conversations were conducted in German, Spanish and Portuguese without any difficulty.

READING CIRCLE '06 AT WILSON RESIDENCE

Mrs. J. A. Wilson received in her home on Morton street, members of The Reading Circle of '06 in her home Thursday afternoon. Roll call was answered with a "Favorite Quotation."

After the usual routine had been conducted, Mrs. Wilson gave a paper on "Being Clinicked" followed by another interesting article entitled "How Swindlers Fleece Women" by Mrs. C. N. Lockhart. A general discussion followed.

On May 26, Mrs. T. C. Armstrong of Croton avenue will receive the members.

Amerita Club Dinner

Members of the Amerita Club enjoyed a tureen dinner in the Green Room of the Y. W. C. A. Thursday evening, having as special visitors the following, Mrs. Charles DeCarbo, Mrs. Nick Frasso, Miss E. Abruzzine, Amelia Iacobucci, Vida George, Irene Lombardo and Vera Jelest.

The menu was served by Mrs. A. Villani and Mrs. Nick George at tables prettily appointed in the seasons suggestion at an appropriate hour. Following the feature, a period of games and contests were in in order with prizes going to Mrs. Rudolph Egizi, Mrs. Charles DeCarbo, Mrs. A. M. Perifano and Mrs. Mario Frabotta. This brought a most enjoyable evening to a close, and on Thursday, May 26 the club will be guests of Mrs. Victor Collello on South Mill street.

Local Pi Omicron Guests.

Twelve members of the local Pi Omicron sorority motored to Youngstown, O., with their instructress, Mrs. Carrie Jeffries Roberts, where they were guests of their chapter of Pi Omicron.

The meeting was held at the home of their leader, Mrs. K. E. Higley, who resides on Bruce street. This marks the fourth year for their organization, and an exceptionally interesting program was given on this occasion.

Special entertainment that added to the evening enjoyment was the songs given by Mrs. M. Humphries, formerly Mary Thomas of New Castle.

At the close of the meeting the Youngstown group, acting as hostesses, served dainty refreshments.

Wyleaway Bridge Club.

The Wyleaway Bridge club, which was recently organized, met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. C. C. Andrews of 123 East Garfield avenue for a steak and mushroom dinner. The menu, consisting of many tasty dishes, was served at 7 o'clock at a table prettily arranged in the season's tones, where places were laid for eight.

Cards followed and Mrs. Harry Flinner and Mrs. Arthur Keifer were successful in capturing the prizes for honors. A short business session followed.

Mrs. Homer Marlery was a special guest of the club.

On Friday afternoon, May 20, Mrs. George Miles of Norwood avenue will entertain in her home.

Club Entertains.

The 1932 Five Hundred club members met with Mrs. John Earl of the Hoyt apartments Thursday for their usual social event. Cards were played and at the close of the contest Mrs. James Reese and Mrs. M. G. Edel were given the prizes. Dainty refreshments were served throughout play.

On May 26 Mrs. Albert Howell of Park way will entertain the club.

IONA KENSINGTON GUESTS THURSDAY

The home of Mrs. George Carr on Delaware avenue was opened to members of the Iona Kensington Thursday afternoon when she entertained informally. Cards occupied the leisure time, prizes being captured by Mrs. Cora Duffner and Mrs. William Pregenzer for honors.

After partaking of a tasty lunch served by the hostess, the meeting closed. Mrs. Pregenzer of East Washington street will be club hostess in two weeks at her home.

"Guild Entertained"

Another social event for the Earnest Workers Guild of Trinity Episcopal church was held Tuesday evening when Miss Queenie Beck and Florence Vaughn entertained jointly at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. John Jones of Bell avenue.

After a brief business meeting card tables were arranged with bingo and 500 being in play. Prizes were awarded Mrs. Robertson, May Clark and Florence Williams. Following, the tables were re-set with appointments of green and white prevailing, where a dainty lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Jones.

The next meeting of the Guild will be held Tuesday, May 17 at the church.

O. M. K. Club Notes

Mrs. Jesse M. Camblin of North Beaver street entertained members of the O. M. K. Club in her home Thursday evening. Tables of 500 were in play as the pastime, trophies for honors going to Mrs. Tillie Hartman, Mrs. W. J. Klingensmith and Mrs. Will G. Andrews.

A group of readings by Mrs. Lyda Pitzer were much enjoyed.

At a seasonable hour, the guests were ushered into the dining room where they were served a dainty lunch by the hostess assisted by her daughter Mrs. Clifford M. Propst, and Mrs. Charles S. Brown. Spring flowers centered the lace covered table illuminated with Robin-egg tapers in pewter and candelbra.

Miss Anna Patterson was a special visitor of the evening.

A. F. F. Club Entertains

A delightful meeting of the A. F. F. Club was held Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Camilla Cunningham, 537 East Washington street. Stories were told, music and dancing also filled in the leisure period in an enjoyable manner. After a short business session at which time it was decided to participate at the Sodality social to be held May 25 instead of their regular session, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess. She was assisted by Miss Stacy Barnes, and small tables were decorated for the occasion.

The next regular meeting will take place at the home of Miss Rosemarie Green, 409 North Shenango street.

S. B. Club

Miss Goldie Householder of Richelieu avenue delightfully entertained members of the S. B. Club at her home Wednesday evening. Contests in 500 were in vogue with trophies going to the Misses Anna Marion Critchlow and Katherine Ritchie for honors. Later, a tasty lunch was served by the hostess.

The club will meet again in two weeks at the home of Miss Coletta Priesel on Etna street.

Afternoon Tea Dress

Campaign Expense Accounts Filled

C. Ed. Smith Campaign Committee Collected $2900 And Expended $2,893.13

Edward J. Connery, treasurer of the C. Ed. Smith campaign committee, has filed his expense account at the prothonotary's office, showing total contributions to the Smith campaign fund of $2,900 and expenditures of $2,893.13. Smith was a candidate for Congress at the recent primary. Largest contribution to the fund was made by Smith, himself, who put in $1,735. The money was expended in the three counties comprising the district, Beaver, Butler and Lawrence.

Candidates whose expenses did not amount to $50 are not required to file an itemized account. All they are required to do is to file a statement certifying that their expenses did not amount to $50. Those filing such statements were F. L. Rentz, successful candidate for delegate to the national Republican convention; Guy Wadlinger, successful candidate for alternate delegate to the Republican national convention; John N. Blessing, candidate for Congress; Samuel R. Huey, successful candidate for state Republican committeeman; Edward W. Hayden, candidate for state Senate; William J. Eroe, candidate for delegate to the National Democratic convention, and William J. Eroe, candidate for General Assembly on the Democratic ticket.

Anti-Saloon League In Ohio Rallies To Defense Of Ballots

Hasten To Assure President Hoover That Ohio Is Not Turning "Wet"

Claim "Indifference" More Than Wet-Dry Issue Nominated Ingalls-Bettman

By H. EARL WILSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, O., May 13.—The Ohio Anti-Saloon League, its political power shattered by Tuesday's primaries, faces the most crucial battle it has had since its fight against liquor was inaugurated in 1893.

The approaching battle is a battle for existence—campaign against oblivion.

Defeated by wet candidates at nearly every turn in the Tuesday election, the once-powerful dry organization must now try to prevent Ohio from joining the movement to elect a wet president.

The immediate goal will be the rallying of drys to their old enthusiasm in the hope that the Tuesday vote will not be permitted to be understood by President Hoover and the Republican party to mean that Ohio is wet.

Power Crumbles

After almost 40 years of leadership, the league's domination was crumbled. The drive to obstruct the efforts of anti-prohibitionists to elect a wet president could restore its power providing it is successful.

Although Attorney General Gilbert Bettman, wet candidate for U. S. Senator, and David S. Ingalls, wet aspirant for governor, were nominated by Republicans by overwhelming totals, the league today refused to believe the result is an ultimatum against the 18th amendment.

In the words of S. P. McNaught, superintendent of the league, it was the "indifference" of the drys that brought Tuesday's tragedy to his organization. Drys could have turned the tables if they had gone to the polls, he intimated.

Doctors Win Suit In Mercer Court

Erie Athlete's Claim For Damages Not Allowed By Jury

MERCER, Pa., May 13.—A verdict for the defendant physicians was the jury return late Thursday in a civil action tried by Judge F. F. Graff of Armstrong county in which Michael Cannavino, Erie athlete, sued Doctors O. O. Bashline and W. F. Rossman of Grove City for $50,000 damages. Cannavino, injured in an auto accident en route to Pittsburgh in November of 1929, was taken to a hospital operated by the doctors for treatment. His leg later was amputated at an Erie hospital. Cannavino alleged negligence.

Per Capita Expenditures Smaller In New Castle

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Per capita expenditures for operating and maintaining the general departments of government are smaller in New Castle than in the average city of over 30,000 population, it would appear from figures made public today by the bureau of the census.

Expenditures for operation and maintenance of the general departments of New Castle in 1930 amounted to only $31.28 per resident. Such per capita expenditures in the average city of more than 30,000 people, on the other hand, totaled $44.53, according to the Census Bureau's report.

The per capita revenue of New Castle for the year was also smaller than that for the average city studied. The New Castle revenue averaged only $41.13 per resident, as against $72.07 for the average municipality with more than 30,000 people.

New Castle's per capita net indebtedness was substantially smaller than the per capita indebtedness of the average city at the end of the year. The New Castle per capita indebtedness amounted to $66.87, whereas the average city with more than 30,000 residents had a net indebtedness of $144.57 per resident.

HEART BROKEN MOTHER GRIEVES FOR SLAIN BABY

News Is Broken To Her Gradually

Col. Lindbergh Away At Time Discovery Of Baby's Body Is Made

NURSE IDENTIFIES BABY CLOTHING

Mother Displays Bravery In Face Of Terrible Situation

By DOROTHY DUCAS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 13.—And so endeth the story.

It is indeed the end. Not until the lifeless body of her baby was found did Anne Lindbergh believe it. But now she knows her staunch hopes were mere Will O'The Wisps. Now she realizes there is nothing more worth mentioning to be said.

Who kidnaped little Charlie Lindbergh? Why did they kill him? Where can they be found? These may be important questions for the police, for society. To Anne Lindbergh everything has been told in one word—"dead."

Mother Is Silent

She sits silent today, silent and frozen, her mother and the devoted friends, who have tried for 73 days to cheer her, find nothing to say, save that she must be brave for the sake of the new baby to be born in September.

She nods woodenly. Of course, she will bear up for that unborn child's sake. But why not? It is all over now, the anxiety, the futile prayers, the eager search for a missing baby.

Gone is the mother's self-hypnosis, induced by repetition of the consolation: "He is safe and sound." The baby who would have had two candles on his cake next month is dead. No use telling herself comforting fairy tales now.

But Anne Lindbergh does not sob, scream, nor call out loudly against a fate that has snuffed out a little boy's life. Always reticent, reserved, undemonstrative, even now she keeps the torrents of her emotion locked up tight.

Calls Her Husband

They say she did not weep when the police informed her, gently of course, that a body had been located. Instead, she went to the telephone and tried to get in touch with her husband, who had been gone for some days on another of his hectic searches for the boy. She tried for almost an hour, before she reached him. He said he would return at once.

They did not let her see the partially decomposed body of the baby that had been chubby and rosy when last she saw him. They did not tell her that the coroner had reported the baby's head had been fractured and that there was a hole in his forehead an inch wide. If they had she might have consoled herself with the belief it was not her baby, no one could prove it was!

Nurse Identifies Baby

But Betty Gow, the Scotch nurse who tended the child, went to the morgue in Trenton and saw the miserable little skeleton that had been lying under leaves for more than two months. She looked, her mouth swung open, she cried: "Ah!" in a gruesome whisper, and leaned heavily on the two state troopers who stood at either side of her.

For she saw the twisted first and second toes of the right foot that were the identifying marks of the baby from the first; she recognized his blonde hair, his eight upper teeth, his large head. And the nurse was convinced this was her little charge.

Completely overcome, Betty Gow returned to the Lindbergh home to face the mother of that dead baby. One look at her face and Anne Lindbergh knew the worst.

She has not yet been told officials believe the child died as the result of "a fractured squll due to external violence." Perhaps that knowledge would be the last straw. Enough that the baby was stolen, that he is dead. To know that he had been killed by a bullet wound, a blow with "a blunt instrument unmercifully wielded" or "banged against a tree" would be the final twist of the knife in her heart.

The gaping crowds stand, rain-soaked, to read bulletins of the pursuit of the kidnapers, indignation surging in every breast. Clerks mutter, hiding their broken voices: "A thing like this makes any man feel funny." Women weep.

Anne Lindbergh neither knows nor cares.

Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus Feature Actress

Stella Cronin is a Denver girl who made good under the white tops. Today this pretty Colorado miss is a well-known aerialist and her act is a feature of the Great Hagenbeck-Wallace circus which comes to New Castle for afternoon and night exhibitions on Thursday, May 26.

Half a hundred pretty girls will appear in the aerial ballet, while over twice that number have leading roles in the newly added magnificent spectacle, "Cleopatra, Queen of Egypt." This new pageant will depict the grandeur and opulence of Cleopatra's court and also the famous historical meeting of Cleopatra and Marc Anthony, who sacrificed duty and fame at the feet of the beautiful enchantress of the Nile.

Rex De Roselli, noted producer of spectacles, will have entire charge of this stupendous production, which will carry the spectators back 2,000 years. "Cleopatra, Queen of Egypt" will be presented as the inaugural to the wonderful performances of the Great Hagenbeck-Wallace circus.

HOOVER AND ROBINSON CONFER ON AID PLAN

Hoover Fails To Give Specific Approval Of Federal Bond Plan, May Effect Compromise

Conferees Are Non-Committal Upon Leaving White House After Discussions

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 13.—A two-hour conference at the White House Thursday failed to develop whether President Hoover will specifically support the Democratic plan for a $2,300,000,000 federal bond issue for public works and unemployment relief, but did contribute to the belief that a compromise will be worked out which probably will make for effective action before the adjournment of Congress.

President Hoover was closeted for several hours with Senator Robinson (D) of Arkansas, author of the Democratic proposal; Secretary of the Treasury Mills, Gen. Charles G. Dawes, head of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., and Eugene Meyer, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board.

At the conclusion of the conference, Mr. Hoover issued the following statement:

Hoover-Robinson Confer

"At a conference Thursday morning, the President and Senator Robinson canvassed the plan of Senator Robinson and the plans of the President to provide for relief and to stimulate enlarged employment. Methods were considered of combining, simplyfing and putting into concrete form the different proposals so as to secure united non-partisan and immediate action, and not to delay completion of the work at this session.

"The President expressed his approval of Senator Robinson's action in opening the way for unified action and his confidence that a solution will be found. It was agreed that the prerequisites of any plan is balancing the budget."

It was noted that the President withheld specific approval of the Robinson plan, which called for a $2,000,000,000 federal bond issue to finance a public works program, and an additional issue of $300,000,000 for direct unemployment relief, through advancing loans to states and municipalities hard-hit by unemployment conditions.

Details Withheld

Senator Robinson, upon leaving the White House, was non-committal about the conference, and the others were equally uncommunicative.

It was reported, without either confirmation or denial, that the administration is averse to the bond issue part of the Robinson plan, but is favorable to taking action through the Reconstruction Finance Corp., to make direct loans to states and municipalities.

Immediately after the conference at the White House broke up, President Hoover left for Alexandria, Va., to be present at the dedication of the George Washington Masonic Memorial, and Senator Robinson went to the Capitol to confer with his Democratic colleagues.

Refuses Comment

Informed of the White House discussion of a loan of $300,000,000 through the Reconstruction Finance Corp., speaker Garner said:

"When the bill was first proposed this was advocated strenuously by chairman Steagall of the banking committee and the Democratic majority but Secretary Mills and Mr. Meyer objected to it."

Garner declined to discuss the Robinson bond issue relief plan, adding he "would work through committees."

Rep. Snell of New York, Republican leader, indicated Republicans would support relief legislation before the end of the session.

"We may have to adopt something in the Robinson plan," Snell said, he added:

"I am open minded on any proposition to relieve conditions in the country."

Conference Held

Before Senator Robinson went to the White House, the President had a lengthy conference with Dawes, Mills and Meyer.

Evidently the Democratic leader was sent for as a result of the discussion, for he arrived in a taxicab shortly after 11 o'clock. Robinson went into the conference just as Meyer was leaving.

When he left he replied to all inquiries by saying, "the President will issue a statement soon."

Gen. Dawes was present throughout the discussion, which contributed to belief that the administration plan contemplates action through the Finance Corp., rather than a direct federal bond issue.

Objections are understood to have been made to the bond issue program on the ground that it would adversely affect the securities market.

Societies Hear Address By Dr. R. F. Galbreath

Christian Endeavor Members Are Addressed By Westminster College Head

Unfavorable weather conditions prevailing last night did not in any way interfere with the success of the annual spring rally of the Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union held in the Reformed Presbyterian church on Oak street. There were two hundred and fifty enthusiastic young Christian Endeavor workers present and heard Dr. R. F. Galbreath, president of Westminster College. Every society was well represented. Enon Valley and Plaingrove coming from a considerable distance were exceptionally well represented.

Harry Wilson, chairman Lawrence County Union, called upon Prof. Robert Duff of Mt. Jackson to lead in the singing. Later he and Howard Gilmore rendered a duet. The devotionals were led by Griff Thomas of First Congregational church.

Howard Gilmore, Miss Theodora Pollock and Rev. Davidson of Enon Valley were the committee on awarding the prize banner attendance ensignia and found that the Central Presbyterian society had won.

The nominating committee then reported and the following nominees were unanimously elected for another year: President—Harry Wilson, Reformed Presbyterian church; vice president—Bill Brown, Ceneral Presbyterian church; treasurer—Miss Theodoro Pollock, Plaingrove Presbyterian church; corresponding secretary—Miss Geraldine Fry, Central Presbyterian church; recording secretary—Russell Sewall, Neshannock Presbyterian church, New Wilmington.

Dr. C. B. Wingerd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church installed the officers in a pleasing manned. Dr. Galbreath was then introduced and delivered a very timely address, urging the members of the society to go forward and do things. Following the address of Dr. Galbreath, refreshments were served to all present.

Three Methodist Areas Abandoned

Due To Low Finances Methodist Areas In Buffalo, Indianapolis And Helena, Abandoned

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 13.—The general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church Thursday voted to discontinue the Episcopal areas of Buffalo, Indianapolis and Helena, Mont.

The action was termed necessary because of the state of the church's finances.

A spirited debate occurred after the committee on Episcopacy had recommended the action. The Rev. Dr. Orien W. Fifer, of Indiana, chairman of the committee, sponsored a minority report opposing the elimination of the Buffalo and Indianapolis areas.

The minority report was tabled by a vote of 541 to 256.

National Strike Plan Voted Down

(International News Service)

READING, Pa., May 13.— The proposed 48-hour national strike was voted down here Thursday afternoon at the annual conference of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor by an oral vote. It was advocated by the Philadelphia branch of the Full Fashioned Hosiery Workers Union.

Thomas S. Kennedy, Hazelton, militant secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, declared that the strike was a "foolhardy venture," inasmuch as no assurance had been given that the strike would benefit labor. The strike would push back the labor movement ten years, he averred.

A resolution was passed opposing all salary cuts of federal or state employes.

City Dwellers In Steady Trek Back To Farms

Economic Conditions Is Forcing Young People Back To Country

ST. LOUIS, May 13.—Throughout the middle west there is a steady back-to-the-farm trek of youths, who, a few years ago sought fame and fortune in the cities, according to Wood Netherland, president of the Federal Land bank here.

Economic conditions have forced young men and women, who were drawn by the glamor of the city and its high wages, to return to the farm with a sad story to tell the home folks, Netherland said.

Elderly persons who were intent on spending their last year's surrounded by the comforts and conveniences incident to city life, have been shorn of their incomes and have returned to their former homes.

The present city-to-farm movement is perhaps the broadest and most far-reaching in the history of the middlewest, Netherland believes. The tide, which for many years had been flowing to the city, began ebbing back to the farm more than a year ago, he said.

Since then, industrial workers, either definitely out of employment, or in prospect of a layoff, have joined the trek in constantly increasing number, records of the Federal Land bank show.

Many city people, realizing that farms may now be purchased for a fraction of the price asked a few years ago, have gone to the country with the idea of profiting by the present depressed land prices, he said. More than 40 percent of the current farm scales are to city people, he added.

The movement, according to Netherland, results from the first instinct of man, self-preservation. Faced with hunger, or becoming a ward of charity, city dwellers are moving out where they get a plot of land upon which to raise food.

Marker For Spot Of Gold Discovery

(International News Service)

HORSETOWN, Cal., May 13.—A granite marker, like a tomb stone that marks a grave, was planned today for the ghost city of 49'er days in historic Shasta county.

Once a rip-roaring camp, with brick store buildings hotels, church and homes, Horsetown is now in forgotten ruins a dead city of frontier gold days.

With the exception of an occasional prospector, Horsetown is deserted but old Jim Gleason, born here in '59 and now living in another part of Shasta county, trekked back again to locate the spot where gold was discovered in 1848 by Major A. P. Reading.

On this spot a marker will be erected by the Shasta County Historical Society to perpetuate the name and history of old Horsetown.

Believes Dust And Dirt Found On Body Of Baby Good Clues

Famous Frenchman, Director Of Police Laboratory In Paris, Makes Statement

Would Examine Carefully Under Microscope Undershirt Worn By "Lindy"

(International News Service)

LYONS, May 13.—Microscopic examination of the dust and grime found on the shirt of the murdered Lindbergh baby may provide a clue to his kidnapers, Professor Jean Locard, director of the police laboratory here, declared today.

Professor Locard has aided in solution of many baffling crimes by concentrating on the study of dust on the bodies of murder victims.

Opinion is Given.

"The baby was probably killed in a fight between rival gangs shortly after the kidnaping," Locard said. "The body eventually was deposited close to the Lindbergh home in order to throw police off the track.

"The dust on the baby's undershirt will betray the distance he traveled and other clues of importance."

The fact that the child's body was decomposed should not hamper this angle of the investigation, the professor said. He cited numerous cases where examination revealed important clues after even longer exposure to the elements.

No Criticism.

BERLIN, May 13.—"Important clues" in the murder of the Lindbergh baby can be derived by ascertaining just how long the boy lay in the spot where it was found, Hans Scholz, Berlin police commissioner, declared today.

"The American police cannot be criticized for failing to find the body," he said. "We have also experienced cases where bodies have been found with the aid of police dogs months after their murders occurred."

News of the murder created a profound impression here. The Berlin newspapers, which rarely accent crime news, all carried voluminous details on their front pages.

FIND REMAINS OF BABY LINDBERGH NEAR HOPEWELL

months old, if he were living, were combing the earth for trace of their beloved, a spyglass from the isolated Lindbergh home on a hill might have sighted the gully of death.

It was on a second hillock, only 75 feet from the road from Hopewell to Princeton, that the missing babe was found by a negro truck-driver-found with his skull bashed in and a hole suspiciously like a bullet aperture behind his right ear.

Two months had he been blanketed by the underbrush with the budding leaves of spring whispering a nightly lullaby.

The emergency telephone lines of the police investigators grape-vined within a few feet past his still body.

Discovery Is Made

Then William Allen, Negro truck stumbled on his grim find. He called the police.

They found a thermos bottle not far away from the little bundle of death. It indicated that the kidnapers had hidden in the vicinity, had grown afraid of the pursuit, and had slain the child.

Identification was established from the miniature garments worn by the child and from certain physical characteristics revealed in the autopsy.

Dr. Charles H. Mitchell, county physician, who performed the autopsy, said that identification was positive. It was determined by means of the curly blonde hair on the infant, the fact that it had eight teeth, and because his toes overlapped.

Supplementing the official identification, Betty Gow, nursemaid of the ill-fated child of fame positively identified the garments worn by the dead baby.

She recognized the two baby shirts on the body.

Mrs. Lindbergh Shocked

Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh, mother of Charles Augustus, came back from a visit to her mother's home at Englewood only a few hours before the little body was discovered.

Mrs. Lindbergh, who is shortly to become a mother again, was greatly shocked. Her monther, Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, attempted to comfort her.

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh was communicated with immediately. He was away from Hopewell conferring with the three negotiators who hoped for a contact with the kidnapers. Colonel Lindbergh started back for his home.

The tragic find stamped the supposed negotiations with the purported kidnapers in both Norfolk and New York as hoaxes.

The Lindberghs paid out $50,000 ransom money to a party in New York whom they were convinced were the baby-stealers. Nothing developed after the money was paid.

Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, commander of the New Jersey state police, in charge of the investigation of the kidnaping, planned to question both Dr. John F. Condon, who negotiated the $50,000 ransom payment, and John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk shipbuilder, who believed he was contacting with the kidnapers.

World is Vengeful.

The world of mothers and fathers, the world of hard-boiled officialdom, the world we live in, which turned soft for the sake of the recovery of the missing infant, turned hard and vengeful at the word the Lindbergh tot had been found slaughtered.

The hundreds of millions who had watched and prayed for a trace of the missing infant were eager to spot the trail of the fiends who butchered America's first baby.

The greatest murder hunt in history was on.

The "hands off" policy of national and local police agencies, established for fear of interfering with the safe return of the child, was a thing of the past.

The world was on the hunt against the meanest, lowest, most foul enemy of society.

Great Man Hunt Is On.

Colonel Schwarzkopt said:

"As long as there was a possibility of the baby being alive, the police have been acting with a certain amount of suppressed activity in order not to interfere with any negotiations that might result in the safe return of the bay.

"Now that the body of the baby has been found, every possible effort will be used and all men necessary will immediately exercise every possible effort to accomplish the arrest of the kidnapers and murderers.

"We have had under suspicion a group of persons suspected of being the kidnapers and immediate steps will be taken and are being taken to accomplish their arrest."

Much Sympathy.

The discovery of the babe's body near Mount Rose, N. J., brought in expressions of sympathy from President Hoover and from those prominent in public life throughout the land.

The official statement which sent billions into ubiquitous mourning, was issued by Colonel Schwarzkopf at eventide when children throughout the nation were being kissed a fond goodnight and tucked in their beds. It read:

"We have to announce that apparently the body of the Lindbergh baby was found at 3:15 p. m. today by William Allen, Negro, of Trenton, who was riding on the Mount Rose road toward Hopewell.

"He was riding with Orville Wilson on a truckload of timber. They stopped the truck and he went into the woods. Going under a bush he lowered his head and as he raised his head he saw a skeleton on the ground.

Officers Rush To Scene

"He called back to Wilson. Wilson ran into the woods, saw what it was and decided to go to Hopewell and get the police. He notified Chief Wolf, who notified these headheadquarters. Inspector Walsh of Jersey City; Sergeant Moffatt, of the Newark police; Lieutenant Keaton of the New Jersey State Police, and a number of other detectives immediately went to the scene.

"They reported finding the body of a child estimated to be between a year and a half and two years old in a bad state of decomposition but having blond hair and wearing what appeared to be an undershirt and a flannel band around the body.

"Not satisfied with this as identification, men were sent back into Hopewell to the Lindbergh estate to get samples of the undershirt the baby wore and of the flannel shirt the baby had on the night of the kidnaping.

Clothing Identified

"This flannel shirt had an embroidered scallop edge on it. These articles were taken back to the scene and compared with the clothing found on the body and were matched closely enough to afford an identification of the body as that of the Lindbergh baby.

"The statement of William Allen and Orville Wilson says that the body was pretty well concealed by leaves, dirt and brush.

"The skull had a hole in it about the size of a quarter just above the forehead. The body was lying in a depression, as though an attempt had been made to bury it face down.

"Mercer County Physician, Dr. Charles H. Mitchell, and the County Coroner, Walter Swayze, were immediately called in."

Coroner Swaye said:

"The toes of the right foot overlap, which is a means of identification, according to Colonel Lindbergh. The large toe completely overlaps the toe next to it."

The coroner added that the dead child had curly blond hair, eight molar teeth, that it was 34½ inches in height, all adding to the identification.

"Diagnosis of the cause of death is a fractured skull due to external violence," said the report.

The autopsy further declared that the body had been in the open for at least two months and was nearly a skeleton.

Before removing to his isolated home atop the Sourland Mountain, Colonel Lindbergh lived at Mount Rose, not far from where the baby was found.

Scout Men Going To Bedford Party

County Leaders Meeting At Ropp Home Tonight; Plan Summer Work

Daring the combination of "Friday the thirteenth," the scout leaders of the north section of the county will hold a meeting and social get-together at the home of Scoutmaster Irwin Ropp, New Bedford, tonight; the men and their wives or sweethearts being asked to assemble there at eight o'clock daylight saving time. The scout office can still furnish transportation for a few who may decide to go, and who do not have transportation as yet.

The recently elected club officers will be duly invested, and will then take over their duties and line up proposed activities for the coming months. As outgoing president, Sid Smith will open the business session and will then turn over the reins to the new men.

Scoutmater Ropp is arranging some social stunts, and leaders are bringing wieners, rolls, etc. The leaders will get busy with an old-time wiener roast if the weather permits, and if it does not permit, Mr. Ropp will have a worthwhile substitute ready. A good-sized number have signified their intention of attending.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Letters Intended For This Column Must Be Signed With Name And Address Of Writer

Mr. Fred Rentz,
Dear Mr. Rentz:

For myself and for the Jameson Memorial Hospital Aid Society, I want to express our thanks and appreciation of the publicity given to the recent membership campaign through The News. You certainly gave us all the space and work anyone could ask for and more and I know it was a great help in bringing the matter to the attention of the public.

I want also to thank you for your clever article in the "Hints and Dints" and Mr. Conway for his very nice editorial.

Very sincerely,
JANE A. MARTIN.

COMMISSION MAY ORDER RESUMPTION OF WORK ON DAM

(International News Service)

BUTTE, Mont., May 13.—Northwestern Montana is keenly interested in the hearing scheduled at Polson April 7, by the federal power commission, upon application of the Rocky Mountain Power Company, subsidiary of the Montana Power Company for an extension of time in which to build the dam and power plant on the Flathead River near Polson.

Merchants of the community loaded up with supplies and merchandise two years ago, basing their purchases on the prospect of extensive construction work, which was stopped within a short time after it started.

George Otis Smith chairman of the power commission, notified Montanans that Commissioner Draper will hold the hearing. Indians on the Flathead reservation which leased the power site, have been anxious for the power plant's completion, to pump water for irrigation one of the determining factors in the project.

Officials of the Montana Power Company claim that with mining at low ebb their present power production far exceeds the demand and there will be little need for increased production if the Flathead project was ready now. They also claim that the man power required for the dam construction was used in laying natural gas mails across Montana last year, and that the work already done puts the construction job on the dam one year ahead of schedule.

BOOKIE'S ALIBI FAILS TO CONVINCE COPS

(International News Service)

HAMMOND, Ind.—When Hammond police informed Levi Gledhill, 50, race horse bookie here that "this is a pinch" he told them, they said, that he, wasnt taking any bets but only accepting contributions for a floral piece for Phar Lap, the famous Australian race horse which died in California.

"You may be right" said Sergeant Sandor Singer as he gathered up the racing sheets, "but you'll have to explain that part of it to the judge."

Jacob at Bethel

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

I am with thee, and will keep thee whithersoever thou goest.—Gen. 28:15.

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson for May 15 is Genesis, Chapters 27 and 28, particularly 28:10-17, the Golden Text being 28:15.)

The Bible paints its characters as Oliver Cromwell demanded his court painter should paint him, "warts and all." These two chapters reveal many astonishing and disappointing blemishes in the Old Testament "saints" of Isaac's tent.

In a rash moment Esau had sold to his brother Jacob for a mess of potage the spiritual birthright which he despised. Then a bit later, when he feared his father was about to die, he endeavored to get it back again by securing his father's blessing upon him self. But Rebekah, the mother of Esau and Joseph, heard the plans and arranged a scheme whereby the patriarchal blessing should be diverted from Esau to Jacob. While Esau was hunting for the venison his father loved she prepared some "mock venison" from meat of kids and goats and had Jacob bring it to his aged and blind father, pretending that he was Esau. The pretense was effected by covering his hands and neck with the skins of the kids and of the goats and deliberately lying and saying, "I am Esau, they firstborn. . eat of my venison that thy soul may bless me." Thus a son (no longer a youth) as generally pictured, but a man 77 years of age) treacherously deceived his blind father, 137 years of age, and sowed the seeds of discord which not only estranged his brother from him for 20 years, but created a breach between two nations that persisted through centuries of subsequent history of the Israelites and Edomites.

Jacob's Ladder

To escape Esaus fury Jacob fled from the parental home and journied back to Haran, the home of his mother's brother, Laban, austensibly to get himself a wife. And immediately he begins to learn that "the way of the transgressor is hard" and that "whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." Lonesome and homesick he lies down to sleep pillowed upon a stone and covered only by the starry heavens, and feeling that he has gone out not only from family but also from the presence of God. "And he dreamed; and behold, a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven; and, behold, the angels of God ascending and descending on it, and behold, Jehovah stood above it, and said, I am Jehovah the God of Abraham they father and the God of Isaac." It was the God of the prodigal following him into the far country of sin. It was the shepherd hearted God seeking the lost in the wilderness: It was Jacob's awakening to the grace of his God and the beginning of a process of divine grace in him which was to culminate 20 years later in another night vision in which Jacob should yield to God's plan and method instead of his own reliance upon self and the methods of deceit and craftiness. In these 20 years God has much to do to make a saint and a channel of grace worthy of the name "Israel" out of the cheater and supplanter who deserved the name "Jacob."

The True Ladder to Heaven

Our Lord referred to Jacob's ladderas a type of himself and to "angels ascending and descending on the son of man." He meets us in our place of need and says, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father but by me.'

Brython Tells News Of Welsh People In City

Star Of Wales Lodge To Meet Saturday; Music At Church Sunday

The services next Sunday at the Emmanual Baptist church will include songs and prayers. Morning service at 11 o'clock. In the evening at 7:30 the members of the choir and the church will take part in the program. Solos, duets and readings will be given and all the members are requested to present.

A very interesting prayer meeting was held at the Emmanuel Baptist church last Wednesday evening May 11 when Miss Vivian Jones read a very interesting chapter of the Bible and the following brothers and sisters led in prayer: William Phillips, Mrs. Thomas I. Jones, Mrs. William J. Lewis and Deacon Benjamin Jones. A splendid talk was given by Dr. William Davies of South Jefferson street and a Welsh hymn was sung with great power and effect. Miss Ann Jones was at the piano. The meeting was dismissed by Deacon T. L. Jones.

A meeting of the Star of Wales lodge will be held next Saturday evening May 14 at the Emmanuel Baptist church at seven thiry o'clock sharp to take action on the communication that has been received from the board of the Ivorite Order, and also to receive the report of the sick committee and the report of the financial secretary of the lodge, Thomas D. Thomas.

The choir of William H. Richards that competed at the Warren Eisteddofod last Saturday is well pleased with the treatment they received although they didn't get the prize. They were given a mighty good name by the adjudicators.

We are very sorry to know that the friend David Williams, the treasurer of the Star of Wales Lodge of Sheridan avenue is still rather sick. He has to take life very quietly, getting all the rest he can. The doctor is of the opinion that he will be alright again in a short time.

A letter came from Wales this week telling that things are getting better over there and that a good many of the tin mills are starting up, after being closed for two years. Most of the tin mills at Brython Home, Morrisston, South Wales, are working and everybody is feeling happy once more.

The singing festival, the Gymanfa Ganu that was held at Youngstown, Ohio, last Sunday May 8 turned out very successful. Hundreds of people were present from all over the country and the music conductor, Prof. L. Powell Evans of Atlantic City did his work wonderfully well and pleased all the people in the way he conducted the singing. They want him to come back again.

Truly,
Wm. A. JOHNS.

SCOUTS MAY PLANT SEEDS THIS MONTH

Advices received by the local council Scout office from the state tree nursery at Mont Alto signify that the shipment of tree seedlings for Camp John M. Phillips will be on hand in time to be planted by local Scout troops on Saturday, May 21. Leaders of New Castle and suburban troops are asked to have their Scouts at camp on this date if possible, to help in this tree planting. This will be a worthwhile project for the further beautifying of the camp and also as a start in a reforestation work. Taking place as it does during this year, it will also be classed as a Washington bicentennial planting, and leaders may also plant a section themselves, as a grove in memory of Scoutmaster Charles Hicks.

Believe Condon Talked With Men Who Took Child

Also Believe Negotiators Who Took $50,000 Knew Baby Was Dead

HEARTLESS CRIME IS REVOLTING

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 13.—Inhuman as the unutterably shocking kidnap-murder of the Lindbergh baby is, it appeared today that perhaps the world's most heartless crime was perpetrated on the grief-bowed parents by the men who extorted $50,000 hoax ransom from Dr. John F. Condon, New York University lecturer.

For if they were the real kidnapers, they were also the murderers of the child, and were trafficking in the body of the dead, with full knowledge of their savage deed.

Dr. Condon believed they were the authentic abductors. So did Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh. What led them to this faith was never fully told.

Knew Secret Code

The men knew the secret code given in the ransom note kept inviolate from the public until today. They also furnished a "token," never described, but convincing to Lindbergh and Jafsie.

If, as was reported, the "token," was the sleeping suit the baby wore when it was stolen, there is strengthened suspicion those who obtained the ransom money were, the criminals who kidnaped the child, slew it and then callously wrung cold from the hope-filled, duped hearts of the parents.

Soup Demand Is Dwindling Now

Only Fifty Gallons Per Day Being Furnished, With Demand Lessening Daily

Demand for soup which has been furnished throughout the winter by the mayor's relief committee, with the co-operation of the Jameson Memorial hospital and various local charitable organizations, is rapidly decreasing, and it is expected to discontinue furnishing the soup in the near future.

From a peak of around 300 gallons daily, the demand has dropped to 50 gallons per day, making it hardly worth while to make deliveries to the various depots scattered throughout the city.

The soup has proven a big help to the unemployed families as it furnished a warm, nourishing meal each day.

Plan To Remove Crossing Watchman

Council today passed a motion by Councilman Genkinger which in brief said the city would not oppose the request of the B. & O. to temporarily suspend the services of a watchman at Furnace Street crossing. Only one train passes there each day. The rail officials told council the crew of any passing train would guard the crossing. Application for the removal will be formally presented to the public service commission.

TEAR DOWN WALLS OF WOODS BLOCK

After clearing away the debris from the interior of the building, workmen engaged in razing the Woods block started yesterday on tearing down the walls and about six feet had been taken off the top of the building by noon today.

Scaffolds have been erected on the inside of the building and the debris is being piled inside, being hauled away by trucks which enter through an opening made in the wall along North Mill street.

It is estimated that there are enough jobless men to cultivate most of the idle land that offers them a good living.

Dizzy Spells

When you feel so faint and giddy—when you think each breath is going to be your last—your poor, sick, disordered stomach is trying to tell you that it needs help.

There's an easy way to give it—Dare's Mentha Pepsin before meals will put your stomach in such splendid shape that it won't distress you for a long, long time to come.

Two weeks will tell the story—though you'll feel worlds better in two days. There will be no more of that terrifying pressure on your heart—no more gaspy breathing—no more sickening giddy spells.

You will feel better than you have in years. If you don't say so, Eckerd's Cut Rate will give your money back.

Nugent To Have Charge Of Plots

Clayton Street Plot To Be Put In Condition For Gardens

Council during a formal meeting today passed Councilman Hoyland's motion putting the distribution of sewage disposal plant lots under the supervision of Superintendent Frank Nugent. He will also have charge of the distribution of Clayton Street lots. The ground will be for gardens for unemployed.

During the session, Joseph Russo, representing Joseph Pacurar, had alleged that a lot Pacurar had last year, would not be alloted him this year. Mr. Nugent said he had not yet distributed lots and after hearing the matter discussed pro and con the motion was passed by council putting the distribution again under his supervision.

There will be about 70 gardens there this year. It is not known how many will be in the Clayton Street plot. It is probable the city engineer will help Nugent lay out the plots so that each can have approximately the same space.

Charge Trio With Highway Robbery

Assert Two Are Taken On Auto Ride, Beaten And Robbed

Charged with highway robbery and felonious assault and battery, John James of 1412 Wilson avenue, Frank Bethle of 1211 Scioto street and John Simperman of South Mill street are in the county jail awaiting a hearing before Alderman William E. Marshall.

It is charged by Constable James H. Ellison, prosecutor, that the three men took Mike Keacher of 547 Long avenue and John Zoltant of 54 East Long avenue for a ride in an automobile Thursday afternoon. After driving around for some time it is charged that the three men then assaulted the latter two, beat them up, took their money from them and threw them out of the car. Keacher and Zoltant are in the hospital.

The three men were arrested by City Officers H. E. Richards, George Kennedy, John Golis and R. Cooper.

Status Of Firemen Given By White

City Solicitor Outlines Matter Of Compensation For Fires Outside City

Council convened formally today in the city building where Solicitor Robert White presented a supplemental opinion relative to city firemen, paid and volunteers, who went outside the city limits to combat flames.

The opinion, in brief, stated that under an act of assembly and a superior court decision volunteer firemen, injured while fighting conflagrations outside the city would draw compensation, under an amendment to the state compensation act.

He expressed doubt that members of the paid fire department would be able to draw compensation, were they to meet with injury. After hearing the opinion read council referred it to committee for further consideration.

FORGETFUL BRIDE

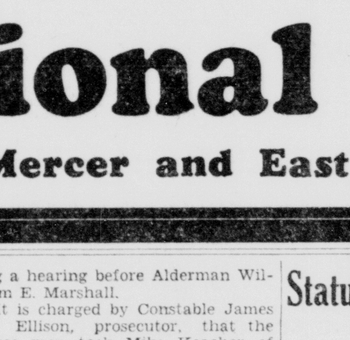

An elderly couple were getting married at the little country church. The bridegroom was very deaf.

When the clergyman read, "Wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife?" the old man did not hear his, and asked the bride, "What did he sad?"

The bride bawled in his ear, "He wants to know if you will have me for thy wedded wife."

The old man looked surprised and exclaimed: "Why, certainly, Mary, dear! Didn't I tell you so the other night?"

Meeker Murder Case Is Mystery For Officials

Unable To Arrive At Any Motive For Killing Of Young Woman By Her Brother

HUSBAND AND ONE OTHER IMPLICATED

(International News Service)

MILLERSBURG, O., May 13.—Possibility that the murder of Gertrude Meeker 21, was the result of a "sort of family agreement" was hinted Thursday as county officials prepared to lodge charges of first degree murder against her 23-year-old husband, Herbert Meeker.

Meeker's case, officials said, will be placed before a special session of the Holmes county grand jury probably today.

The "family agreement" angle to the slaying loomed today when Sheriff John Stevens revealed that he was carefully studying a statement made by Meeker, in which he allegedly confessed his part in his wife's murder.

Mystery Motive.

Meeker, according to Sheriff Stevens, told him that it had been agreed in a talk with "another member of the family," that "something's got to be done to get her out of the way."

Harold Young, 19, a distant relative, who Meeker implicated in the crime, committed suicide by shooting himself with a shotgun as Sheriff Clark Shearer of Wayne county went to his home to take him into custody for questioning.

Sheriff Stevens said he would confer with Elmo Estill, county prosecutor, as to whether the "other member of the family," with whom Meeker allegedly discussed his wife's murder, would be questioned.

Modified Court Adherence Plan Is Agreed Upon

Europe Must First Agree To Acceptance Of Old Fifth Reservation

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 13—A modified form of American adherence to the world court, conditioned upon European acceptance of the old fifth reservation, was favorably reported Thursday by the senate foreign relations committee.

The old fifth reservation blocked American adherence to the court in 1926 when European signatories refused to accept it. The identical terms were written into the present resolution of adherence by the foreign relations committee before reporting it to the senate.

The old fifth reservation prohibits the court from rendering any advisory opinion on any subject in which "the United States has or claims an interest."

The resolution of adherence was modified, too, by adoption of the Mosses reservation, directing President Hoover to refrain from signing the resolution of ratification (after the Senate ratifies the protocol) until every other member of the court accepts the fifth reservation in writing.

Revise Alumni Lists At College

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 13—Under direction of Dr. S. E. Calhoun, president of the Westminster Alumni Association, the files of alumni names and addresses have been completely revised within the last three weeks. To further revise the lists, Dr. Calhoun has sent out this week 3,870 cards to alumni and former students seeking correct addresses and other data.

Dr. Calhoun announced yesterday that a check up in his office revealed that 2,660 men and women have been graduated from Westminster since 1852. Of this number, 687 are deceased, leaving 1,973 graduates still on the lists. In addition to this group, 1,835 former students are listed. Most of the former students are from 1900 on, and all home addresses of the former students are not known for certain.

Alumni day, Saturday, June 4, promises to be an important one for the college, Dr. Calhoun also stated. The cards sent out this week by the alumni office request information about commencement return of grads and former students. The alumni office is concerned with getting reservations for the annual alumni dinner at noon on June 4. The annual meeting of alumni and election of officers will follow the dinner.

Bitterly Assail Tariff Items In New Revenue Bill

Minority Report Filed By Five Democratic Members Of Finance Committee

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 13. — Five Democratic members of the finance committee Thursday submitted a minority report bitterly assailing the inclusion of coal, oil, copper and lumber tariffs in the pending revenue bill already favorably reported to the senate by the majority of the committee.

"We regard the inclusion of these tariffs as utterly indefensible," the minority report said. "We believe it is unsound in principle and dangerous in practice to attempt to make the present revision of our tariff laws the vehicle for tariff tinkering. Furthermore the prospect yields of these tariffs is negligible."

The committee minority, composed of Senators Harrison of Mississippi, George of Georgia, Walsh of Massachusetts, Costigan of Colorado and Hull of Tennessee, declared the tariffs are "certain to injure our foreign trade and foreign relations."

Asserting that the four industries will not be benefitted, the report added:

The probable ultimate consequences of this further attempted tampering with a desperately sick economic situation throughout the world may well occasion the gravest apprehension."

GROW SUDAN GRASS FOR GOOD SUMMER PASTURES

The most satisfactory crop for spring seeding and mid-summer pasture is Sudan Grass.

This crop is about midway between a millet and a sorghum, so it is adapted to hot, dry weather. It also may be used in place of millet to produce hay or soiling material and in the southern counties of the state can be cut twice.

Sudan grass should be sown only after the weather and soil are warm, about corn planting time. Twenty pounds to an acre is the usual seeding rate for hay or green feed, and 25 to 30 pounds for pasture. It may be seeded shallowly with a grain drill, using the wheat feed set for a very light seeding of wheat. Good soil well fertilized and well prepared should be used for the crop.

In 6 to 8 weeks the grass should grow to 18 to 24 inches high, when it is ready to be pastured. This will be about the time the regular pasture is getting short. From then until frost this pasture will carry about three cows an acre.

The first frost will kill the grass. Pasturing after frost is unsafe because of the danger of prussic acid poisoning. The land can be seeded to winter grain after the grass is killed. Sudan grass will do best in the southern half of the state.

LEARN COW'S WORTH BY REGULAR TESTING

Many low-producing cows, at present prices for milk, are losing money for their owners every day.

Facts, not guesses, are very necessary now. There are great differences in the milk-producing ability of different cows, and the only known way of definitely finding out the facts regarding the amount of milk produced by a cow in a year is through a systematic plan of weighing and testing the milk. This must be carefully followed month by month. To weigh and test occasionally or at irregular intervals is not sufficient.

The method of testing followed by cow testing associations has amply proved its worth. This is simply weighing and testing the milk of each cow one day each month and multiplying by the number of days in the month. The adding of the totals for the 12 months will give the yield for the year. Some of the low-producing cows may be located long before the year is out and can be weeded out as soon as discovered.

Start testing now either by joining a cow testing association or through private testing and so provide a sound basis for a real herd improvement program.

PLANT PLENTY OF SWEET CORN FOR FAMILY DIET

Home-grown sweet corn tastes best because this vegetable must be strictly fresh to be good. Sweet corn is shipped into local markets only to a limited extent because of the rapid deterioration in quality after harvesting.

To have a continuous supply of roasting ears successive plantings must be made. The first planting may be made as soon as danger of frost is past and the last one can be made about 90 days before the first killing frost is expected in the fall.

Early, second early, and late varieties may be included in the first planting and a late variety planted at intervals of two weeks.

For early and large yields of sweet corn the application of manure, supplemented with commercial fertilizer, is desirable. A 4-16-4 mixture is satisfactory for the early crop on good soil, and superphosphate is good for the late crop where sufficient manure is applied. A row application at the rate of 200 pounds of fertilizer an acre will be more efficient than small applications broadcast.

Cultivate shallowly and frequently. Use a weeder as soon as the plants are up and again when the plants are about three inches high.

GRAPES REQUIRE COVER CROPS AND FERTILITY

A good grape crop can be produced if certain requirements are filled now.

Many grape growers cultivate and prune their vines but pay little attention to better feeding. Tests show that an annual growth of 6 to 8 feet results in the most productive fruiting wood. Ample cane growth and vigor of the vine are essential. These requirements can best be met by proper feeding and culture.

Clean cultivation alone cannot be expected to obtain the desired response. In the vineyard as in the orchard, cultivation depletes the organic matter of the soil, thus causing a gradual decreases in yield. Fertilizers, especially nitrogen, have been found valuable. Even greater benefits have been obtained in the highest producing vineyards with a vigorous cover crop used for maintaining the organic content of the soil.

Fertilizers are essential in promoting the growth of a vigorous cover crop. Stable manure is valuable when sufficient amounts are applied but in most cases the grower must rely upon commercial fertilizers containing nitrogen, phosphorus, and potash. From 600 to 750 pounds of a 6-10-4 fertilizer, made up of 250 pounds of nitrate of soda, 470 pounds of superphosphate, and 60 pounds of muriate of potash can be applied to each acre not later than May 15 and preceding the first working.

Recent tests in Erie County have shown that when cover crops were grown the practice has resulted in an increase of 700 to 950 pounds of fruit per acre and the organic content of the soil has been built up at the same time.

Cover crops of clovers, millet, and oats have given good results and as an economy measure many growers are planning to seed their cover crops several weeks earlier than formerly to cut the cost of cultivation during the summer season.

ARRANGE HIVE FOR EARLY SPRING WORK

When bees are wintered in two bodies some queens will often confine their egg laying to the upper body. The bees fill the lower body with pollen and it becomes waste space. To prevent this condition, the bodies should be reversed so that the brood is placed below.

Every colony of good strength should have a shallow frame super of drawn empty combs in which to store the spring honey. A queen excluder should be placed underneath to keep the queen out of the shallow frames. The early honey then will be stored in the shallow frames; otherwise it will be placed in the hive body where it will crowd the queen and encourage swarming.

Suggests Stock Exchange Ruled By Post Office

Senator King, Utah, Would Have Postmaster General Supervise Market

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 13.—A bill placing stock exchanges under the rigid regulation of the Post Office Department Thursday by Senator King (D) of Utah.

Every stock exchange would be required to file with the postmaster general "satisfactory regulations and prohibitions respecting its transactions" and to enforce drastic rules against market abuses.

Use of the mails and telegraph and telephone facilities would be denied by the postmaster general to any exchange or any exchange member committing the abuses.

Among the practices prohibited by the bill would be "matched orders," concealed buying and selling of a corporation's stock by officers or directors and pooling or pegging operations conducted through the dissemination of false statements.

Telegraph or telephone companies knowingly transmitting market information contrary to provisions of the bill would be subject to a $1,000 fine.

Save dish washing by serving luncheon or dinner on one serving or grill plate. Divided plates like this are quite inexpensive, are attractive and practical.

A new way to serve bananas Peel and cut bananas crosswise in two sections. Wrap each section in a strip of bacon and place in pan under broiler for a few moments.

It wasn't THIS that ruined Jack's blouse

it was STRONG SOAP

"You'd never guess," said Jack's mother, "that these blouses are practically new. Look how they're going."

Her neighbor said . . . "I'm sure it's that strong soap you're using. It's rotting the materials . . . no wonder they go! Why don't you use Chipso? Chipso will wash just as fast as strong granulated soap. But Chipso will make your clothes wear longer."

And the neighbor was right.

You can easily tell if your present soap is too strong—whether it is soap chips, rubbing soap or granulated soap. If your soap roughens your hands when you use it for dishes, it's too strong for your clothes.

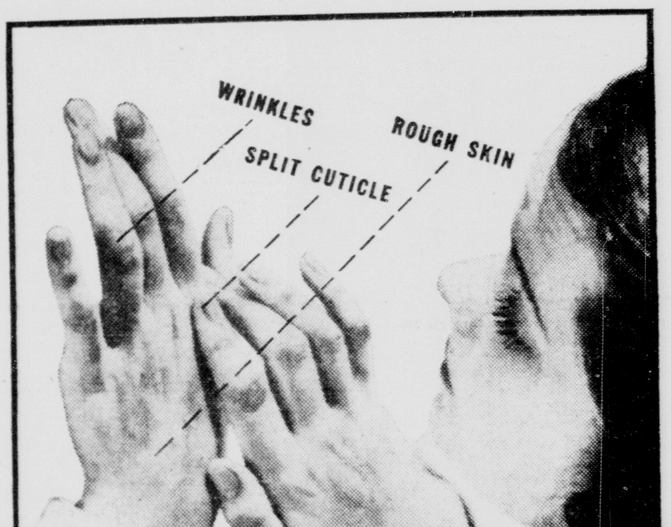

Try Chipso. Use Chipso for clothes and dishes and cleaning. Your hands will smooth up inside of a week.

Your clothes will get snowy in those bigger, velvet-rich suds. But Chipso suds are safe. They contain no free lye to rot threads and weaken materials. Why, Chipso keeps even your prettiest silk underwear looking new and fresh. All your clothes, cottons, linens, or silks, wear longer when you use Chipso.

Read these startling facts about "cheap chips"

Chipso is a real bargain. Don't, oh don't confuse Chipso with the cheap chips, or so-called flakes, which have recently appeared in the stores. These cheap soap chips cannot give you Chipso's help and safety. Too often they contain unpurified fats which are hard to rinse out . . . free lye which weakens and rots materials . . . excess water which merely increases the weight . . . lumps which are hard to dissolve . . . even dirt from unsanitary manufacturing methods.

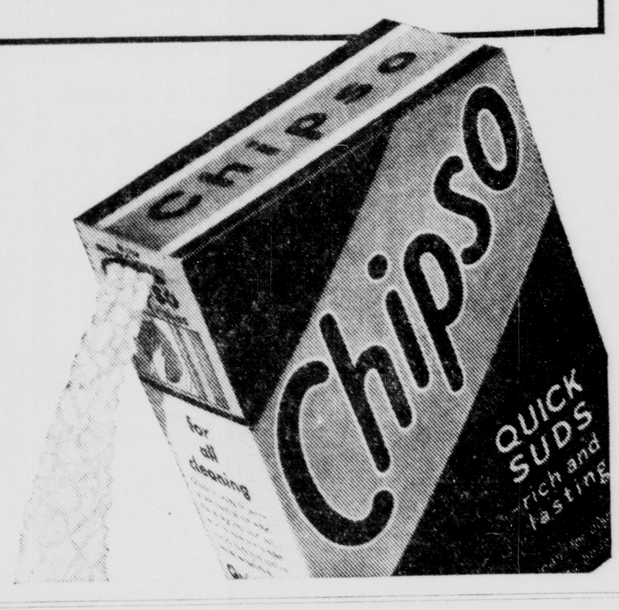

Chipso suds do more work . . . give whiter clothes. Chipso goes farther. It saves your clothes and hands. Be sure you get genuine Chipso . . . it comes in the big blue box with the yellow stripe.

A soap that is hard on HANDS is hard on CLOTHES. Chipso SAVES hands and clothes

Clothes cost MONEY

Detroit Police Officials Will Aid In Search

Believed To Have Important Clue In Connection With Lindbergh Kidnapers

DETROIT KIDNAP CASE FRUSTRATED

(International News Service)

DETROIT, May 13.—Inspector William Collins will go to New York at once, it was learned today, to aid authorities there in running down a clue which he believes may may result in the capture of the Lindbergh kidnapers.

Signatures on extortion notes in a frustrated Detroit kidnaping plot link the local case with the Lindbergh case through a widely known New York gangster.

Arrest of the gangster, local police said, is expected momentarily. While he has been under surveillance for some time, he was not arrested for fear such action might lead to the death of the missing child.

The Detroit case now brought to the fore was the attempt in January, 1931, to kidnap the two children of Horace S. Maynard, secretary-treasurer of the Senior Investment Corp. Four men are serving prison terms for the plot.

After the four kidnap plotters walked into a police trap at the Maynard home, Maynard received several extortion letters signed "James Martin".

Handwriting of the extortion notes tallies closely, police said, with a signature involving the New York gangster whose name already has been mentioned in the Lindbergh case.

Massies Arrive In California

Mrs. Granville Fortescue, Lieut. Massie And Wife And Darrow Land Today

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Smiling happily Mrs. Granville Fortescue, her son-in-law, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, U. S. N., and daughter Mrs. Thalia Massie, central figures in Hawaii's most famous criminal case, arrived here today with their chief counsel, Clarence Darrow, on the Liner Malolo.

"It's so good to get back to the real United States," declared Mrs. Fortescue.

We've been through so much suffering but I have no regrets at what has happened. We can rejoice now that it is all over, and we are free."

Horse Drawn Fire Engines Are Gone

Seventy Years Ago Pittsburgh Fire Fighters Had Their First Engine

By JOHN SCOTZIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, May 13.—The horse-drawn fire engine has had its day.

Seventy years ago Pittsburgh residents gazed with pride upon their new horse-drawn fire engine and considered it the last word in fire-fighting equipment.

Today, David A. Rees, present owner of the fire-fighting apparatus of a by-gone day, is confronted with the problem of disposing of the old engine.

Although Rees may not be sentimental, he dislikes seeing the old smoke-chaser deteriorating from neglect, spending its last days in a dusty room, and has offered to donate it to the Carnegie museum to be added to the institution's exhibits.

Old-timers recall with pride the sight of the engine, drawn by a pair of snorting black steeds, flashing past with the bell clanging and firemen stoking the boiler with chunks of wood.

The old engine, known as the pumper, weighs 6,300 pounds and is equipped with pumps capable of throwing 700 gallons of water a minute.

Two Men Held In Florida Result Of Kidnaping Threat

Threat And Extortion Plot Is Made Against Daughter Of Minister

(International News Service)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., May 13.—Two men were arrested here today and three others sought by police in connection with an attempted kidnaping and extortion plot directed at the Rev. David M. Gerner, chairman of arrangements for the Southern Baptist convention.

The men were charged with attempting to extort $30,000 from the Rev. Gardner by threatening to kidnap his six-year-old daughter unless the payment was made.

Names of the men were withheld by police.

The suggestion was made that the Rev. Gardner raise the $30,000 fund by popular subscription on the convention floor, police said.

To Take Cannon From Public Square

(International News Service)

MIDDLETOWN, Pa., May 13.—The town council decided to take away the cannon from center square. It was the nemesis of motorists for years. Many traveling the Lancaster-Harrisburg pike failed to note the grass plot and cannon in the road until after they met the site with a thud.

Vets And Ladies Attend Tri County Council Meeting

State And National Officers Present At Session Held In Butler

Delegates from the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and their Ladies Auxiliary were in attendance at the Tri-County council meeting held in Butler last evening, which was attended by 250 members of the order from the three counties of Lawrence, Mercer and Butler counties.

Separate business sessions were held early in the evening, followed by a program of entertainment, which included cards and dancing. A number of musical selections were furnished by a mandolin quartet from the Joseph T. Black Post, who with their ladies were hosts on the occasion.

Past National Commander in Chief Bob Woodside of Pittsburgh and Jack Bingham, a member of the state council were present, as were Past National President, Margaret Armstrong, Department President Ida May Stanford, Department Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Genevieve Schaaf, and Mrs. Myrtle Byers, Mrs. Myrtle Sutherland, Mrs. May McGuire, Mrs. Emma Fredericks, and Mrs. Mabel Lyons, all department or national officers of the Ladies Auxiliary.

At the close of the evening, a delicious lunch was served by the members of the Ladies Auxiliary.

The next meeting of the Tri-County council will be held in New Castle on Thursday evening, June 9.

Over-Supply Of Nurses Is Shown

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 13.—Only about 273 days of employment, on the average, is available to a skilled nurse in Pennsylvania during the year, according to U. S. census figures analyzed recently by the committee on grading and nursing schools.

The committee expressed the belief that the situation is due to an over-supply of nurses. In an effort to correct the condition, an attempt to reduce the number of graduates being turned out and to redistribute and re-educate those already registered for service will be made by national organizations, it was announced.

RAIL FOREMEN SEE INSTALLATION HERE

Directors Are Nominated By Local Chamber

Final Election Ballots Placed In Mails Following Tabulation Of Vote

NAME COMMITTEE TO COUNT BALLOTS

At the primary election of the Chamber of Commerce conducted in the board of directors room of the Chamber of Commerce at 2 p. m. Thursday, May 12, 1932, the following directors were nominated for a three-year term ending 1935:

Thomas W. Dickey, Esq., James K. Love, A. C. Hoyt, B. H. Kannenberg, R. E. Long, Hon. James A. Chambers, T. F. Morehead, Thomas H. Hartman, H. T. Frushour, John E. Elliott, Walter W. Braham, Esq., R. W. Bolsinger, Paul Butz.

From those nominated six are to be elected at the final election to be held by the Chamber of Commerce in the board of directors room at 2 p. m. Monday, May 23, 1932.

The primary election was conducted by the primary election committee, consisting of L. W. McClung, city treasurer, chairman; James M. Smith, Jr., assistant treasurer of the Shenango Pottery company; J. T. Offutt of the W. J. Offutt company; H. W. Bowen, manager of G. C. Murphy company, and D. O. Davies, city councilman.

The final election is in charge of, and will be conducted by the final election committee consisting of Hon. C. B. Mayne, mayor of New Castle, as chairman; H. M. Kirk, Jr., of Kirk, Hutton & Co., and T. F. Higgins of Higgins Brothers.

A deep interest in the election of directors was shown by the large number of votes cast. The Chamber of Commerce membership responded unusually well in the interest they have taken in the election and the affairs of the organization.

The Chamber of Commerce will close its fiscal year May 31, and due to the helpfulness and cooperation of its membership is closing a very successful year.

Final election ballots were placed in the mails today and members urged to voice their selection for the six to be elected as soon as convenient.

Congress Reward For Finding Of Kidnapers Sought

New Jersey Representative Would Have Congress Set Precedent

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 13—A proposal that congress offer a reward for the capture of the kidnapers and murderers of the Lindbergh baby was considered today by Rep. Seger (R) of New Jersey, who was a friends of the late Dwight Morrow, father-in-law of Col. Lindbergh.

An investigation revealed, however ,that there is no precedent for a federal reward in a police case, because of this, Seger said ,it probably would be impossible to obtain pasage of a reward resolution.

After discussing the case with J. Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau of investigation ,in the department of justice, he said that Hoover urged speedy action by congress to give the department of justice jurisdictionn in interstate kidnaping cases.

Tax Bill Fight Is Launched By Senator Smoot

Pleads With Senate To Enact New Tax Bill To Get Budget Balanced

BILL MAY HELP BRING PROSPERITY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Pleading for prompt balancing of the budget in order to restore confidence to the nation, Senator Smoot (R) of Utah, chairman of the senate finance committee, this afternoon launched the fight for senate approval of the new $1,030,000,000 tax bill.

Smoot declared congress faced the duty of placing the government's finances on "an unquestioned sound basis and to provide for the continuance of the public credit unimpaired." He said the government's course in balancing the budget would "inevitably affect the welfare of every man and woman in the country."

He urged the senate to enact the tax bill without delay, pointing out the government was losing $2,000,000 each day in anticipated revenues. He called the bill "non-partisan", except for tariff duties and urged his colleagues to "continue upon a non-partisan basis."

NEW SHREDDED BISCUIT MAKING BIG HIT

Grocers Say Housewives Welcome Many Improvements in Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit

Local grocers have pronounced the new Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit one of the most up-to-date food products on the market. It offers many outstanding and popular features. For one thing, the biscuits are toasted a golden brown on both top and bottom—not just one side.

The new Kellogg biscuit is also baked in a more convenient, economical size. Two biscuits just fit the cereal bowl—and you get 15 to the package instead of a dozen.

Mothers will especially be interested in the fact that every package is certified for food value by the Medical Arts Laboratory of Philadelphia. These new biscuits are considered a splendid food for both adults and children. With either hot or cold milk, you achieve a well-balanced amount of vitamins, minerals, proteins and carbohydrates.

The Kellogg Company uses a special process of "pressure-cooking" which retains all the food value of the whole wheat and makes it very easy to digest. At the same time it develops delicious flavor.

These improved biscuits can be identified by the name, Kellogg's, and the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Stomach Ulcers Cure Is Found

Peptic Ulcers No Longer Foil Doctors As Deadly Disease Among Men

NON-SURGICAL TREATMENT USED

By LEIGH MATHIESON
International News Service Science Writer.

NEW ORLEANS, May 13.—Peptic ulcers, rapidly becoming one of the principal diseases of men in this country, are the result of a stomach action similar to that of hydraulic pumps used in excavation operations.

Heavily acid coarse food is literally blasted against the delicate tissues of the duodenum or pylorus of the stomach and cuts away the surface film like jets of water under high pressure wear down a hillside, Drs. Frank C. Mann and Jesse L. Bollman of the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., have discovered in experiments.

In reporting their discovery to the section on gastro-enterology of the American Medical association, they asserted knowledge of this cause of stomach ulcers should enable physicians to cure the condition without the usual recourse to surgery.

The first step in this non-surgical cure of ulcers is to reduce the acidity of the stomach contents. Then by various mechanical means, the direction in which the gastric contents are expelled from the stomach can be changed so that the full force of the impact is shifted to a healty zone of tissue.

Dr. Mann said he discovered that the ulcers always begin to heal almost the instant these easures are taken and that they will disappear entirely within a few days or weeks after proper treatment is begun.

Welfare Worker Reports On Work

Many Activities Have Increased Since Organization Takes Up New Quarters

Miss Christine Butler, welfare worker at the Neighborhood house, gave a report of her activities at the meeting of the Americanization society held Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. T. W. Phillips, Highland avenue.

Since moving into the new quarters on East Reynolds street, the classes have all been increased and reports of these were given by Miss Anna Aiken, teacher of the Women's English class; Grace Timblin, leader of the Girls' Bible Class club; Mabel Wimer, leader of the beginners' sewing class; Ed Schmid, superintendent of the Sabbath school, and Jay Alsworth, assistant.

Ed Schmid was again elected to head the Sunday school; Jay Allsworth, assistant superintendent; Grace Timblin, superintendent of young people's work; June Deep, superintendent of the cradle roll, and Mary Nader, assistant.

Miss Mollie Davis gave the treasurer's report and Christine Butler, who is in charge at the Neighborhood house, reported 77 calls for the month of April; 562 books exchanged. Books were donated to the library this month by Mrs. W. G. Wilkins and dishes by Mis Anna Aiken.

The outstanding work of the month was the evangelistic campaign put on, with eight services, during which 25 conversions were made and 150 gospels given out.

A new club has been organized, "The Young People's club" with a membership of 21. The officers are: President, Katherine Hauptman; vice-president, Frances Nader, and secretary, Jennie Boron.

The annual meeting of the society will be held Friday, May 27, at 8 p. m., in the home of Mrs. T. W. Phillips, Highland avenue.

The mayor's relief fund will receive another boost when the proceeds of a concert in Ben Franklin junior high school are added. The concert will be given Monday evening, May 16, at 8 o'clock D. S. T. in the Ben Franklin auditorium.

The program will be a demonstration of the work done by the various organizations of the instrumental students in the music department of the Ben Franklin school. There will be selections by the senior orchestra, the combined senior and junior orchestra, the band, the bugle corps, the string ensemble, a violin choir, a violin quartet, a clarinet ensemble, a girls' clarinet octette, a girls' drum ensemble and a xylophone trio.

A diversion in the program will be given by the various solo numbers on violin, piano, cello, harp, trombone, clarinet, trumpet, Saxophone and baritone.

There will be dances to demonstrate the rhythm of music, and Harry Jones, the boy soprano of the school, will sustain his laurels with a number of solos.

There will be three variety numbers included in the program: a Tom Thumb wedding in which the younger brothers and sisters of the orchestra and band members will participate, with Lohengrin's wedding march played by the clarinet ensemble. Those taking part are:

Bride—Billie Jean Seal.
Groom—Charles Shoaff.
Father—William Shaffer.
Mother—
Minister—Guy Elisco.
Maid of honor—Helen Johnson.
Best man—Harry McEwen.
Guide—Arlene Blank.
Ring bearer—Gladys Reger.
Flower girls—Barbara Hamill, Mary Lou Rape.
Ushers—Charles Gee, Robert Gee.
Bridesmaids—Mary Alice Kleckner, Doris Emma Jean Book, Evelyn Blank, Thelma Thompson, Marion Taylor, Catherine Ringer.

The military tap dance, to be given by the girls' drum ensemble, will be a number of great interest; this will be led by Billie Glenn as honorary drum major.

A splendid display of the groups which will take part in this concert is being shown in the P. & O. windows on the Diamond.

The children in this production come from all grades taught in the junior high school, from the 7 B's to the 9 A's, and they have been drilled and taught during the past four and a half years by Miss Evea Coulter, who has given most liberally of her talents and energy in bringing the musical organizations of the school to their high status.

Memorial Service For Circle Five

Annual Memorial Service For Protected Home Circle Will Be Held Sunday

Sunday evening, at 7:30 the annual memorial services for rthe dead of the Protected Home Circle will be held in the First Congregational church, East Reynolds street.

The committee in charge of the arrangements include David Tucker as chairman; Mabel Tucker, sentinel; Gladys Meilke, Katheryn Jaxheimer; Trustee A. L. Conn and secretary, Lillie B. Jones.

The pastor of the church, Rev. Rees T. Williams, will preach the memorial sermon and the choir, under the direction of Griff Thomas, will have appropriate vocal numbers, with Mrs. John M. Evans at the organ.

The officers and members of Circle Five will meet in the Sunday school room at the church at 7 o'clock and attend the service in a body.

Robinson's Plan Liked In House

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 13. — The proposal of Senator Robinson (D) of Arkansas for a $2,000,000,000 public works bond issue received support in the House Thursday.

Rep. Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, Democratic leader, tentatively endorsed the Robinson plan in the event Congress balances the budget through taxation and economy.

WOMAN GETS $5 FOR "WILDCAT" TWO-SPOT

DETROIT, Mich. May 13—Who said two dollar bills were unlucky?

A woman offered one of the bills as a tax payment in the county treasurer's office but was told as it was issued in 1831 by one of the old "wildcat" banks it was not legal tender.

However, Herman R. Lau, county treasurer, a numismatist, paid $5 for the bill which the woman applied on her taxes.

Officers Hold Trio They Hired To Start Fire

Believe Arrests At Youngstown Breaks Up Arson Ring

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 13—Caught preparing to start a fire which arson investigators had engaged them to set off, three men, said to be members of an arson ring which has burned buildings in Youngstown, Warren, Niles and Girard, were arrested early this morning.

The scheme was the outcome of two months investigation of this ring. Youngstown has had a series of incendiary fire and explosions for 18 months, and Callan and the fire underwriters have been working to break up the gang.

With the consent of the owner of a duplex dwelling and the occupant of the downstairs apartment the investigators engaged the arsonists, through a third person, to set the fire early this morning. Callan sent them $250 in marked bills as compensation.

The police and fire officials were hidden in and around the house when the three men arrived, carrying a five gallon can of gasoline. As they began sprinkling the gasoline about the vacant apartment, they were seized. One is said to have a revolver, but he was subdued.

Old Letter Shows Dispute In State Over Duelling

Arthur M. Brown Discovers Letter Written To Grandfather In 1828

Tells Of Furor Aroused By Two Legislators Leaving Duties To Duel

One of the most interesting documents brought to light here in some time was discovered by Arthur M. Brown of East street, among some old family papers.

It is a letter written by General Moses Sullivan, Revolutionary hero, to Rev. William Stewart of Butler, a great-grandfather of Brown's. General Sullivan was a state senator at the time the letter was written.

The document, penned in 1828, tells of two members of the state legislature, "Jackson men", absenting themselves from their duties to engage in a duel, and the consternation which resulted. Happily, the duel was averted, and there was no bloodshed.

Mr. Brown is a descendant of men who have served in the state legislature of Pennsylvania on both sides of his house, and he values the letter highly.

No stamps were used: in sending the letter, which was merely folded up and sealed with wax, the address being written on the outside.

Harrisburg, March 12, 1828.

Dear Sir:—

In my last I gave you information that two of the members of the H. R. have left this place for the purpose of deciding "an affair of honour" in the gentlemanly mode—they, as I am informed, had a quarrel on the evening of the 3rd instant in a tavern—it originated in this way—a proposition was before the House that the Mayor of Philadelphia should be elected by the citizens—Mr. Bonsall advocated the principle. Mr. Meredith said no one but a d——d fool would be in favour of it—B. called him a liar—M slapped him on the mouth—a scuffle ensued—they were parted by bystanders.

M. said, now I have given you an insult and you may seek your own redress as you please—B. sent him a challenge—they took the stage together for Phila the same night—the next day when the House met, a resolution was passed ordering the sergeant at arms to proceed after them post haste and bring them back—he arrested B in the city on last Thursday—it is understood that the preliminaries had been arranged, and the place of meeting was to be in the State of Delaware.

Mr. Nowal was the second of B. and a Mr. Cadwalader the second of M. (all Jacksonites). Whether M. went to the city or not I have not ascertained—B., being arrested, would have been prevented from going to the battle-ground, had not the Sergeant given him permission on his word of honour that he would not fight—it appears this was done—he went to the ground—a reconciliation took place—they and the Sergeant came back on last Monday night, and on the next day, resumed their seats—a resolution was offered by Mr. Kerr that a committee be appointed to inquire and report to the House the cause of their absenting themselves without leave — this brought on a debate—a motion was then made to postpone the resolution until tomorrow, this motion was carried—then the delinquents asked to be excused for absenting themselves without leave.

On this question, it was contended that it was confined simply to the act of going away without leave—on the other side it was contended that in the question was involved the object and motives of their absence—the House decided to excuse them 49 to 40—an attempt was made this morning to get up the resolution but the House refused to proceed to consider it—!!! So it appears likely that the whole matter will be smothered, and the two members of the House, who went away with the determination to shoot one another in violation of the laws of Penna and their country will be permitted to retain their former standing in that body—while they were absent every one dictated they should be expelled from the House—they expressed the utmost abhorrence of their conduct—but lo! when they return, all is hushed to silence—even our representative who had declared they should be expelled, voted to excuse them!!

But they are Jackson men, and some of our Jackson men have been advocating duelling openly—some of them say that a man cannot be a true Jackson man unless he will fight in that way—the resolution was offered by a Jackson man, this perhaps was intended to give a favourable colouring—make a little fuss and then let the matter die a natural death.

Are the people of Pennsylvania in favour of duelling? Their representatives have said by their late vote that they would not only excuse a private citizen, but they are willing to excuse "members of the legislature" for leaving their seats with the avowed purpose of taking away the life of a fellow mortal!—will the press wing at such gross conduct—such dereliction of duty as to sanction such conduct by a vote to excuse?—this is a Jackson legislature to all intents and purposes—it is characterized by unprecedented turbulence and violence. You need not mention the name, but R. Wilkins told me that if the Administration papers could make use of the occurrence, it would injure the Jackson cause most materially—For the sake of morality, then, let it be exposed—let it be severely handled—you have men capable of doing it—I expect it will be said in extenuation that some of the Administration men voted for excusing, but they are bourne down by the great majority—If the vote of the House is correct, the law against duelling ought to be repealed—it is making mockery of the lawmakers.

Yours respectfully,
MOSES SULLIVAN.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Seems as though we're going to get those traffic marker lines on the East Washington Street bridge after all. Not only that but they've been waiting for good weather up around City Hall, which is the reason why they haven't been painted on before, according to the Chief of Police, C. C. Horner.

Here we thought we were offering a perfectly good suggestion for the alleviation of a traffic problem, and all the time the chief had the idea in his vest, ready to pull out when the sun shines. Anyway the lines will help traffic at East Washington and Croton.

It is almost too much to hope that the Ohio drivers will see the lines or the signs. Once they cross the Pennsylvania line it seems they go completely blotto. It may be the fact that we have good roads over here and they're not used to them, or it may be that they want to forget they're from Ohio. Whatever it is they drive the streets over here with as much care and finess as a house wrecker removing a fire ruins.

Up at Griff Thomas' home on Park avenue there seems to be a bird convention. Mr. Thomas has two honeysuckle bushes, one at the front of the house and one at the back. Each of them has a bird nest in them. A family of sparrows have taken over the front bush, and in the back is a family of cardinals.

Ordinarily cardinals are not found so close to houses as they are a rather wary bird. Griff says he is proud of his aristocratic boarders.

This is one day when a fellow would be justified in staying in bed, if he was a hunch player. Friday the thirteenth. The day when superstition pays double, when swastikas and horseshoes become national emblems, and the stock market staggers through the day in fear and trembling.

This is a bad day to lose thirteen dollars, to fall off a ladder, or to trip into an open manhole. It is also a bad day to argue with your wife, or attempt to borrow ten from a friend.

The high school play last night was the kind of a play that sends 'em away with a smile. It happened to be well done and worth seeing.

Our seats were down among the horns and fiddles. The reservations were to be good ones and they were, right up against the orchestra. You'd be surprised what a volume of music comes out of those horns, when you're parked right next door to them.

P. R. R. Asks Right To Abolish Section

Leesburg-Carmona Spur Not Needed Now, Road Claims; Application In

The Pennsylvania railroad has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for the right to abandon a part of the Wolf Creek branch of the Western New York and Pennsylvania railroad.

A stretch between the No. 5 mine and Carmona is the section the road would have discontinued. Citizens of Liberty township objected to it when a petition was up five years ago. The claim then was that the rail waneeded to haul material for highways.

The district superintendent of highways, it is reported, has agreed to the discontinuance because it would eliminate six grade crossings. All of the highways have been built.

Rose Avenue P. T. A. Closes School Year

Election Of Officers Features The Afternoon Meeting At Rose Avenue School

The Parent-Teacher Association of Rose Avenue School closed the school year Thursday afternoon with an interesting program, election of officers and "Till We Meet Again Tea".

Mrs. Stanley Reese led the singing as the members sang P. T. A. songs as an opening number, with Mrs. Helen Chapman playing the accompaniment.

Miss Anna Cox presented the pupils of the school in a delightful group of songs, with Miss Gladys Rich as the accompanist. They sang: "Washington, the Patriot", an original song written and set to music by pupils of Grade 6B; Grade 4 sang "Dreams" by Woods; and the entire chorus sang: "A Gentle Hint", Johnstone; "Guess Who"; "Dawn Time" by Fullerton; "The Broken Melody"; "The Hunter's Horn"; "Star Wishes" by West, and "Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground" by Foster.

The business session took up the election of officers and Mrs. E. L. Davenport was selected as president; Mrs. Oliver Hazen and Mrs. Charles Irwin as vice presidents; Mrs. Joseph A. Bailey, secretary, and Miss Jessica Jenkins, as treasurer.

Plans were discussed for a social gathering of the P. T. A. on Thursday, May 19, at 8 p. m. in the school.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed, with ten tables of dominoes in play, with Mrs. Manley Bates in charges, and when play was over refreshments were served by Miss Mildred Smith, Mrs. Charles Owens, Mrs. Helen Chapman, Misses Jessie Jenkins and Moriydd Owens.

BALL PLAYERS NOSE IS BROKEN

Ellwood High In Triangular Meet At Beaver Falls

Ellwood, New Brighton, And Beaver Falls To Stage Annual Meet Saturday

Locals Given Another Chance To Defeat New Brighton Tomorrow Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, May 13.—If old man weather decides to behave on Saturday the annual Triangular Meet with Ellwood City, New Brighton, and Beaver Falls, will take place as scheduled, in the afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Beaver Falls High School field.

This will be Ellwood's final chance to prove their superiority over New Brighton who twice have taken the measures of the Blue and White cinder team. All indications point to a merry battle Saturday afternoon for the three schools concerned are the keenest rivals in Beaver Valley. Although Beaver Falls did not prove to be very dangerous in the Geneva Inter-scholastic meet last Saturday, they are really a contender to be reckoned with. With less entries in the meet they promise to show real strength. They have a start in scoring with Matuski who led the sprinters to the tape from New Brighton and Ellwood last Saturday. It was quite a race between he and Welsh. The latter easily copped the 220.

Ellwood knows what to expect from New Brighton who will rely chiefly on Johnny Grimm in the hurdles. Webster in the shot put, and Fedeski in half-mile and mile. The outcome of the affair depends much on the condition of Ralph Strouse, local hurdling ace. It is expected that if Strouse takes one of the hurdle races, Ellwood stands an excellent chance to win the meet. He is a favorite in the high hurdles but it will be one of the best races of the year between he and Grimm in the lows. Last Saturday the latter defeated the local ace at Geneva to tie his record of 13 4-5.

Many local fans are turning out to see Matuski and Welsh race again in the century. The Ellwood sprinter is anxious to turn in a victory over Matuski. Welsh is a strong favorite in the furlong. One of the most promising trackmen of the year is Paul Kuben who flashed his warning in the 120 low hurdles last Saturday when he ran a trial heat in 14 seconds flat. Kuben is the third runner in Coach Lloyd's championship shuttle relay team. He is also a fine sprinter. Lincoln is favored to cop the mile in which event he completely outclassed Fedeski last week, to take second place to Fugate in the time of 4:43 flat. Dick Wilson led all Beaver Valley men in the half-mile run and should do so again. The winner of the 440 is in doubt. Coach Lloyd will enter three fine men in the persons of Tom Barnes, Bob Johnson, and Dick Wilson.

There will be some real competition in the shot put between Mike Paal of Ellwood and Webster of New Brighton who set a new record at Geneva of over 46 feet. Paal has already reached a distance of 45 feet 6 inches. If nothing goes wrong the locals should take first and second in the discus throw with such entrants as Ed Vogt, Tom McKim, and Sam Neff. New Brighton is favored to take the javelin.

Points will be counted 5, 3, and 1 for first, second, and third places respectively. There are only two places in the relays and will count 5 and 3 respectively. There are only two relay races on the program which are the mile relay and the shuttle. The faculty and Geneva College men will be the judges at this event.

440 yd. dash—Barnes, Johnson and R. Wilson.
880 yd. run—R. Wilson, Lincoln and Leggerio.
Mile Run—Lincoln, Cusato, Viniski and Crowe.
120 yd. low hurdles—Strouse, Kuben and McCloskey.
High Jump—Barnes, Strouse and Streeter.
Pole Vault—Kwolek and Segedi.
Shot Put—Paal, McKim, Vogt.
Discus—McKim, Vogt, and Neff.
Javelin—Neff, Savor, Segedi.
Mile Relay—Johnson, Lincoln, Barnes, and Wilson.
Shuttle Relay—Strouse, Kuben, McCloskey and Cavalier.

HOSPITAL NOTES

ELLWOOD CITY, May 13—Admitted yesterday: Charles Mount of Koppel.

Mrs. J. D. Kirk Is Hostess To Past Matrons Club

ELLWOOD CITY, May 13.—Mrs. J. D. Kirk was a pleasing hostess to the members of the Past Matrons Club of the Order of the Eastern Star yesterday afternoon at her home on Fifth street with ten members present at the time. After a delicious dinner served at noon by the hostess, the remainder of the day was spent in sewing for the hospital. A short business meeting was held later with routine matters being transacted.

On June ninth Mrs. John Cobbler will entertain the club at her home in Knox Plan.

O. N. T. Club Has Meeting Thursday

Club Members Assemble At Home Of Mrs. Frank Morrow For Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, May 13.—Mrs. Frank Morrow was hostess to the members of the O. N. T. club at her home on Fourth street last night. Miss Dorothy Anderson was a special guest on the occasion.

Bridge was the principal attraction of the evening with two tables at play. At the close of the game it was found that Mrs. Edward Eichenlaub and Miss Lillian Anderson were the winners of the club prizes. A delicious repast was served at a later hour by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Miss Dorothy Anderson.

Bank Depositors To Get Dividend

Ellwood Citizens Bank Secures Loan From U. S. Government

Beginning Saturday morning, May 14, a 25 per cent payment will be made on all filed claims against the Citizens National bank of Ellwood City, according to R. W. Wylie, received for the bank which closed last November. The payment is made possible through a loan of approximately $200,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Not every depositor will be paid immediately, although the payment of the 25 per cent is based upon the total of deposits tied up in the bank. The first payments will be made of those claims which have been filed with the receiver and after these are paid out, the unfiled claims will be paid.

Mission Society Meets In Church

ELLWOOD CITY, May 13.—The members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Bell Memorial Church assembled in their rooms for an all day meeting Thursday, with 15 being present at the time. A delicious tureen dinner was served at noon by a committee. The remainder of the day was spent in sewing quilt patches. In the afternoon a devotional period was held in charge of Section one with Mrs. George Hindmarch being the leader. There was a duet number rendered by Mrs. Jennie Relph and Mrs. Eppie Scott.

This was followed by a business meeting in charge of Mrs. Pearl Reed, the president. Following a report of the recent Presbyterian meeting at New Castle by Mrs. Donaldson, a general discussion was held by the members. The next meeting of the society will be announced later.

Mrs. J. Jay Dunn, Sr. and Mrs. John Dunn Jr. and Mrs. E. C. Wright were all day visitors in Pittsburgh yesterday.

Play Is Presented Thursday Evening

Cast Of Young People Make Fine Impression On Audience Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, May 13—The Young People's Society of the U. P. Church gave another fine presentation of their play "The Road to the City" at the Lincoln auditorium on Thursday evening, this time under the auspices of the local Kiwanis Club for the benefit of underprivileged children of the community

This play had been previously presented in their church before a record crowd Its success had prompted the Kiwanis Club to engage the cast for another presentation The performance last night was even better, because of a longer period of practice The cast was almost perfect in its clever interpretation The characters are as follows.

Robt. Darnel, A county physician George McKim; Richard James, a man from the city, Frank Gross; Jud Jenkins, a young farmer, Earl Moyer; John James, Richards invalid father, Bob Dambach; Duke, a man of mystery, James VanGorder; Jet Sanderson. At the crossroads, Beryl Boots; Toto Lee, her cousin, Kathryn Wilson; Lilly Morton, a girl from the city, Ellen Newton; Mrs. Sanderson, Jet's widowed mother, Bertha Burrows: Marie, a lady's maid, Grace Harbison.

Providence Society Has Fine Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, May 13.—The regular monthly meeting of the Women's society and Mission circle of the Providence Baptist church was held all day Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brellock on the Beaver Falls road.

Quilting occupied the morning hours and at noon the hostess served a sumptuous dinner at one long table in the basement of her home transformed by spring flowers and woodland blossoms, to 22 adults and three children. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Elmer Lutz, Mrs. Merle Steward and Mrs. Fred Brellock.

The devotional exercises in which S. G. Hazen, Mrs. Jean Wise and Mrs. Routledge took part, was presided over by Mrs. Roy McDanel, as was also the routine business meeting and study period. The latter gave a short account of the Atlantic district missionary meeting at Newark, N. J., where she had recently been attending as delegate for the Beaver Baptist Association Women's Missionary Union. The next meeting will be held on June 9 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hazen in Fombell.

Happy To Bid Good-By To Hawaii

It was a happy moment for Mrs. Thalia Massie, principal in the "Honolulu honor slaying" when she bade good-bye to Hawaii. Victim of a criminal attack by natives that shocked America, she is shown with her husband, Lieut. Thomas Massie, as they sailed for the United States to begin life anew.

Mrs. S. P. Peck Entertains Club

Members Of T. N. T. Club Have Interesting Meeting Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY May 13—Mrs. S. P. Peck was a charming hostess to the members of the T. N. T. Club at her home on Pershing street last night.

Three tables of bridge were in play for the greater part of the evening at the conclusion of which Mrs. Peck and Mrs. E. B. Moyer were found to be the winners of the high score favors. A luncheon appealing to the palate was served later in the evening by the hostess assisted by Mrs. William Bayers, amidst floral appointments.

The club will meet again in two weeks as the guests of Mrs. Charles Stiner on Third street.

W. M. S. AT BRELLOCK HOME

ELLWOOD CITY, May 13—The members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Providence Baptist church at North Sewickley were pleasantly entertained at an all-day meeting held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Edward Brellock of the New Brighton road. Fifteen members and four special guests, Mrs. W. K. Brellock, Mrs. Elmer Lutz, Mrs. Merril Stuart and Mrs. Charles Brandenberger all of North Sewickley township, were in attendance.

The hours were devoted to quilting until noon when the guests were invited into the dining room where they were served an elaborate dinner by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Brellock and Mrs. Lutz at one long table. The table as well as the entire dining room was adorned with bouquets of spring flowers, blossoms and dogwood which formed a pretty setting.

The regular meeting was held at two o'clock with Mrs. Samuel Hazen conducting the questionnaire on the mission book. Mrs. J. R. Routledge, who just returned from a district convention held at Newark, N. J., gave an interesting report. The organization plans to attend a joint meeting at the Ellwood City Baptist church next Thursday.

The next regular meeting will be held Thursday June 9 at the home of Mrs. Charles Hazen near Fombell.

LADIES AID MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, May 13—The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. Church held its regular meeting last evening in their rooms at the church with a good attendance being present. A delicious tureen dinner was served at 6 o'clock which was followed by a general business meeting in which plans were made to accommodate the Senior Class for their annual class night program and dinner. The event will be held in this church this year because of the large graduating class.

LADIES' GUILD

ELLWOOD CITY, May 13—The members of the Ladies' Guild of the Knox Presbyterian church met and held an all day meeting Thursday in the church rooms. Twelve members were present. The day was spent in sewing and quilting and at noon a sumptuous tureen dinner was served by Mrs. Charles Hauserman and Mrs. Clifford Wright.

Koppel

A group of boys and girls were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Gasser Tuesday evening in honor of the eighth birthday of their daughter, Billie. Various games were enjoyed by the children. Billie received many pretty gifts from her guests. At an early hour a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Gasser.

ENGINEERING PROGRESS MADE IN OHIO IN 1931

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 13.—If there was any industrial slump in Ohio in 1931, a survey of the year's engineering progress does not reveal it.

In fact, says the Engineering Station News, published at Ohio State university, a list of projects would indicate 1931 was one of the biggest years in a long time.

Leading the way was the completion of the Akron, the largest airship of its kind, and following was the expenditure of $29,000,000 for 11,343 miles of state highway. Other projects of importance were station building and rebuilding at Cincinnati, Dayton and Columbus, and the expenditure of $3,500,000 on 347 highway bridges built during the winter months for relief purposes.

The feminists boast that women own 50 per cent of America's property. Well, rich men can't take it with them.

Mother Of Alleged Seduced Girl Sues Wealthy New Yorker

By DAVID P SNENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 13—The bizarre tale of a wealthy divorcee mother financing her son and a pretty dance-hall girl off on a trip to Bermuda was told to a jury Thursday at the "love slavery" trial of a $250,000 suit brought by Mrs. Gerteress O'Connor, of Boston, against Mrs. Selma C. Young and her son Otto Heyworth.

Mrs. O'Connor brought the action in behalf of her daughter Mona, whose love is alleged to have been purchased for gold and gifts.

Dancehall Girl

Counsel for Mrs. O'Connor declared that it all began when Otto, twice married, met Mona in a New York dancehall. Otto fell.

His mother approved of Mona. She persuaded Otto to take the girl to Bermuda, says counsel for the plaintiff.

"He was given $400 to start with and received $300 a week while in Bermuda' said Arthur F. Driscoll, representing Mona.

"Mrs. Young even sent her younger son, with a tutor, to be with them in Bermuda."

Driscoll claimed that Mona was promised that Otto's martial difficulties would be settled and that she could marry him.

Was Not Seduced

The answer was that it had as much to do with it as the remark that Mona used to be an honor student in Boston.

"Far from being seduced, the girl was his willing companion," declared counsel for Heyworth. "Nothing was done about it until Otto's bankroll gave out. Furthermore, we will show that this girl's mother was delighted that her daughter had a millionaire boy friend."

Frederic Coudert, Jr., counsel for Mrs. Young, picture Otto was a wayward boy over whom his mother had no control. He denied that Mrs. Young gave costly gifts to Mona. He such such things as she did receive were obtained from Mrs. Young by Otto who said he wanted them "for a girl whose been nice to me."

Mrs. Young divorced Lawrence Heyworth, of Chicago, Otto's father and the Baron Alfred DeCorwin.

Young Heyworth was divorced by Mrs. Helen Marie Patterson Heyworth.

How To Tell Best Time To Reduce

Clendening Explains At What Weight To Go On Diet

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The Fad for the boyish form figure among women has passed, so one understands, and it is a relief. It led to foolish and even dangerous attempts at weight reduction in those who did not need it.

At what weight should one reduce? Dr. Lulu Hunt Peters' rule for estimating the proper weight is a good one:

Rule to find ideal adult net weight: multiply number of inches over 5 feet in height by 5½, add 110. For example: Height 5 feet 7 inches without shoes.

Plus 110

Ideal weight .. 148½

If under 5 feet multiply number of inches under 5 feet by 5½ and subtract from 110.

If you are ten pounds over this weight it means that you should start exercising and cutting down on your diet. The pounds you prevent are easier to remove than the ounces you cure later on.

If you are 20 pounds over this weight you should go on a reducing diet, and after you have lost, stay on a low diet with exercise so long as your weight is stationary.

NOTES AND QUERIES

I-Chinn Yuan, in Human Biology, February, 1932, after studying the records of a Chinese family which recorded the birth and age at death of every member of the family from the year 1365 to 1914 concludes: "A son's chance of long life is to a high degree related to the life duration of his parents. The mortality is most favorable for sons whose fathers and mothers both lived to the age period of 70 and over, poorest for sons whose fathers and mothers both died in the age interval of 20-49 and intermediate for sons whose fathers and mothers both had an intermediate life duration of 50-69. The same finding is true, except that the differences are less marked, when one parent is considered without regard to the other parent, or when the life duration of both parents occurs in the various combinations of age groups possible with the three groups 20-49, 50-69, and 70 and over."

Anyway, Mr. Hoover is engineering things as well as silent Cal was silent.

Nations Express Horror At Murder Of "Lindy" Junior

Australians, Italians And Japanese Utter Cries For Vengeance On Baby Killers

SYMPATHY GIVEN BEREAVED PARENTS

(International News Service)

SYDNEY, Australia, May 13.—Sydney, informed of the murder of the Lindbergh baby as it went to work today, found the story difficult to believe.

The concensus was reflected in the following quotation from one paper: "Australia simply cannot understand how people live in a country where such happenings go on unchecked."

Extra editions of all papers were published.

ITALY AROUSED.

ROME, May 13.—Press and public in Italy united today in condemning the brutal murder of the Lindbergh baby.

All newspapers gave wide prominence to discovery of the child's body. "The blood-stained crib at Hopewell," said the Popolo Di Roma, "cries for vengeance. All humanity has been hurt in what is most dear and sacred in life—its sons."

JAPAN ASTOUNDED.

TOKYO, May 13.—Japan, known as a nation devoted to its children, was astounded today at the murder of the Lindbergh baby.

The press was quick to compare the Lindbergh murderers with Chinese bandits, whom it has frequently referred to as "baby killers."

Crowd Of Visiting Florists Banquet, Hear College Man

City Shop Owners Play Host To District Throng; Program At Hotel

Floral shops of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio were represented by the 105 diners who enjoyed last night's banquet and program of the Western Pennsylvania District, Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, held in The Castleton.

Prof. W. A. McKee of Westminster college, business administration expert, was the chief speaker, while George McCallum, Pittsburgh, aided by Mrs. Margaret McGuire, Butler, led a side demonstration in store salesmanship. The toastmistress was Mrs. Margaret Sheaf, Pittsburgh.

Thomas Cunningham, as chairman of the city's committee on arrangements, extended a welcome to the guests. His committee included Paul F. Butz, Charles E. McGrath and Charles Hennon.

Before adjournment the florists heard a Westminster girls' trio, made up of Dorothy Hepwood, Elizabeth Mechlin and Thelma Edwards, accompanied by Mary Jane Stunkard, sang. Monas Harlan, another Westminster student contributed a vocal number.

PLAN INVESTIGATION.

Council met today in the city building and instructed the city engineer to investigate the complaint of Mrs. McGurk, Butler avenue, who alleged that since paving of Butler avenue she has had trouble with a sewer. She alleged that the sewer had been lowered.

Knows "Alice" Who Inspired Famous Book

Local Man, Former Resident Of Wales, Recalls Heroine Of Child's Book

SAYS MANY HERE KNEW ALICE RAIKES

News that search is being made in the attic of an old house, Llwynegrin Hall, in Mold, North Wales, for a manuscript copy of "Alice in Wonderland," presented to Mrs. Wilson-Fox by Lewis Carroll, the author of "Alice in Wonderland" and "Through the Looking Glass" recalls old memories for several local residents.

The search brings to light the fact that there were two Alices who inspired Lewis Carroll to write his books. The second Alice was Alice Raikes, now Mrs. Wilson Fox of Kensington, London, daughter of Cecil Raikes, who was Postmaster-General in Queen Victoria's reign. She was well known to John Waldron of Orlando avenue, Walmo, and other local people who came to this country from Wales. Mr. Waldron went to school with her as a child.

According to clippings of English papers received by Mr. Waldron, Rev. C. L. Dodgson, a mathematics tutor at Oxford, took Alice Liddel, a don's tiny daughter out in a boat on the rixer, and told her a story of which she was the heroine. She pressed him to write the story and he did so. The book is now known as "Alice in Wonderland," the manuscript of which was recently sold for 15,000 pounds.

Soon afterwards, the tutor, who took the pen name of Lewis Carroll, met a little girl called Alice Raikes, daughter of the then Postmaster-General. He was delighted to find that her name was Alice, too. Visiting her house in London later, he presented her with a manuscript copy of "Alice in Wonderland." Then, inspired by Alice Raikes' remark about a mirror, he wrote, "Through the Looking Glass," of which she was the heroine.

Sixty years rolled by, and Alice Raikes, now Mrs. Wilson-Fox, read of the Carroll centenary and suddenly remembered the manuscript the author gave her as a child.

She wrote to old friends living at her family home near Mold, in Wales, asking them to search the house for the manuscript.

Captain Of Ship Kills Jaguar As Animal Runs Wild

Snarling Jaguar Breaks Loose From Cage While Being Taken To Barcelona

(International News Service)

BARCELONA, May 13.—Passengers abroad the Liner Magellan were thrown into panic entering the harbor here from Venezuela Thursday when a huge jaguar escaped from its cage in the hold and ran wild through the vessel.

Passengers and members of the crew alike fled in panic when the beast suddenly broke from its cage and ran snarling about the decks. The captain drew his pistol and as the jaguar approached him opened fire at point-blank range.

The first shot took effect and the animal fell dead.

Mrs. Farr Heads Missionary Society

Mrs. C. G. Farr of this city, wife of Dr. C. G. Farr, district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal churches of the New Castle district, was re-elected president of the district Home Missionary Society, at the closing session of the society representatives held in Grove City.

Other officers named were: Mrs. J. A. Aimes of Harrisville, vice president; Mrs. A. C. Meyer of Sharon, treasurer; and Mrs. Edwin Williams of Grove City, corresponding secretary.

We are telling them now that they never had their PRESCRIPTIONS filled in our stores — or they would know better.

Prominent Group Going To Kentucky For Mining Probe

Arthur Garfield Hays And Dudley Field Malone Are Included In Group

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., May 13.—Led by Arthur Garfield Hays, general counsel, a delegation of the American Civil Liberties Union, passed through Cincinnati Thursday enroute to the Bell and Harlan county, Kentucky coal fields where they hope to investigate the alleged usurpation of the rights of miners.

The delegation appeared in high spirits, despite a warning from Walter B. Smith, county attorney, that they "might be treated as dogs."

"We think they are big bluffers down there and we intend to call their bluff," Hays said. "They may throw us into jail, but we will seek to establish there the right to enjoy our constitutional privileges."

In addition to Hays, the party included Dudley Field Malone, Prof. Broadus Mitchell of Johns Hopkins University; Dr. Earnest Sutherland Bates, New York author; Rev. Charles Weber of New York, and Jesse C. Duke, Washington attorney.

Brawn And Brains Are Standards In New Co-Ed Rating

BOULDER, Colo., May 13—Beauty, popularity, scholarship, athletic ability—all have been standards on which campus "queens" have been selected. Few indeed are the colleges which do not have at least one outstanding co-ed about whom to tell the world.

It remained however, for a sports columnist on the "Silver and Gold" University of Colorado student newspaper, to devise the standard of co-ed "Intelligent muscularity' and to make his selections accordingly.

"Intelligent muscularity" the columnist explained, consists of unusual athletic ability combined with scholarship and activity membership.

Mary Ingley, of Denver, a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, was selected as the outstanding example of what the columnist had in mind. Her record showed that she is outstanding in intramural athletics, belongs to every organization on the campus open to women, and ranks high in scholarship.

Casting his critical eye over the more athletic members of the sororities on the campus, the columnist then selected one co-ed from each sorority.

OLD $45 BILL BRINGS SCHEMERS TWO BITS

TYLER, Texas, May 13—Continental money is worth even less than a continental, four young men of this place have learned.

The men clubbed together and bought a $45 bill issued by the Continental Congress during the Revolution. They purchased it for $10, after persuading the owner to reduce the price from $15.

With high hopes, they rushed to a coin catalogue—they found the bill was quoted at 25 cents.

Three County League Games

Two Games In City, One At Bessemer, Saturday

SCARAZZO HAS WON TWO GAMES

Three games are calendared for the Lawrence county baseball loop Saturday and should fair and warm weather prevail there is no doubt about the size of the crowds as the fans hereabouts are anxious to witness some classy games.

The circuit became active last Saturday. Bessemer vanquished West Side Tigers 15-2, Scarazzo beat Wampum 7-6 and Brent handed a 5-2 setback to Universal.

Only one of the two games carded for Wednesday was played and as a result the Scarazzo aggregation chalked up a 7-2 victory over the Coal Miners. The Universal-Bessemer tilt was postponed.

And now that the Scarazzo team has a one-game advantage, the rest of the six-team circuit will start a drive to reach the top of the average column.

The games carded for Saturday follow: Scarazzo at West Side Tigers field, Wampum at Universal Sanitary ground and Brent will be entertained by Bessemer on the latter's field.

The brace of contests in the city of New Castle will start at 3 p. m. D. S. T., but the tilt at Bessemer will start at 3 p. m. eastern standard time.

Several Home Runs.

The opener between Scarazzo and Wampum proved a thrilling battle as the south siders came through to break a deadlock and win by a one-run margin in the last inning.

Rylott and Powell hurled for Wampum and Paul McCullough succeeded Fiz Rodenbaugh for Scarazzos. Three Wampumites had a brace of blows but Fahey stole the hitting honors with three safeties.

Brent managed to secure eight safe blows off Coates while Rowe held the Universals to four hits. Rowe struck out half a dozen batters and Coates made four fan the air.

Guanier came through with two hits as did Robinson for Brent. Guanier lived up to his hitting reputation in the Wednesday twilight game when Brent dropped their first game to Scarazzo.

Bessemer handed a 15-2 setback to the Tigers. They netted 13 hits from Blaine and McIntyre while only six were collected by the Tigers from Nord.

Tommy McCormick, catcher, got two of the six hits garnered by the Tigers. Both were triples. However, Stanley and Rabick each got three hits, and of the six, each got a home run.

Three County School Contests

Three games are docketed for Lawrence County Class B. scholastic baseball teams today. The games will be as follows: Shenango vs. Bessemer, at Bessemer; New Wilmington vs. Union township, at Scotland Lane and Wampum vs. Princeton at Princeton.

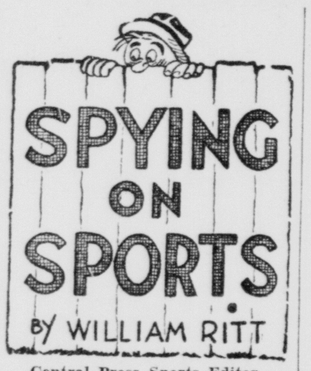

SOUTH HILL VS. VOLANT

South Hill and Volant will play a non-league game at 6:30 p. m. D. S. T. Friday, according to the manager of the South Hill A. A.

They're beginning to say it looks like Yale on the waterways.

Maybe so, but the eventual winner of the so-called national rowing title is harder to guess than the winner of the British Grand National Steeplechase—and that's almost impossible.

Lots of things can happen to crack crews—and often do. Few picked Navy at Poughkeepsie last year, but the Middies showed surprisingly fast time in the big test and won.

However, Yale does look best today following a convincing victory in the Blackwell Cup test in which a smoothly working, steady and powerful Eli eight rowed away from Columbia and Pennsylvania. Yales had beaten Massachusetts Tech earlier.

Thus, Yale has two victories, tops so far this season. Syracuse, Harvard and California, other winners, have but one. Columbia, Pennsylvania, Washington, Navy, Princeton and Massachusetts Tech have been beaten. Cornell and Wisconsin are yet untested.

As this column has pointed out before, this is the big year for the college crews. The eight with the best record will go into the Olympic regatta and try for the world crown, won by that brilliant 1928 California crew in the last Olympiad.

Despite the added strain of seeking the Olympic chance, New Haven is unusually enthusiastic over Yale this year. Stroked by a sophomore, Johnny Jackson, the Eli shell cut down its Blackwell opponents on the Schuylkill with the steady, unhurried assurance of champions. The manner in which Yale gained length without loss of rythm stamps the Blue boat as possibly another masterpiece of that shrewd mentor, Ed Leader.

Olympic chance or no, Yale today has the satisfaction of already being the favorite in the annual test againts Harvard, chiefly because the Crimson shell in 1931 snapped Yale's three-year victory string without showing much speed.

Yale's real test will come on Lake Cayuga, May 21, when the Elis go against the untried but always powerful Cornell combination and Princeton.

Meanwhile, California and Wisconsin prepare for their eastern invasions. The Bears appear to be good again this year and eastern rowing men know what a good California shell can do. Washington, undaunted by the loss to the Bears (this was blamed largely on the fact that the Husky shell was rigged too low) is still a factor to be reckoned with. And Syracuse's victory over the 1931 Poughkeepsie winner, Navy, must be counted in any comparison of rowing strength until—and if—the Orange oarsmen are beaten.

So far, our college crews appear at least up to the usual standard, which presages a victory in the Olympic eight-oared race for the United States. Though a number of club eights are in training for the Olympic chance it should take a fine crew to beat out the college field. And of the six Olympic eight-oared clashes in the past the United States has won four, three being in the last three Olympiads of 1920, 1924 and 1928.

Untested Field In Pimlico Race

Not One Of Horses To Run In Preakness Saturday Has Achieved Fame

FAVORITES ARE SICK AND CRIPPLED

By FRANK G. MENKE
International News Service Sports Editor.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 13.—They'll run the historic preakness here tomorrow over the ancient Pimlico oval, and once again a band of glorified selling platers will go chugging around the turns for one of the richest and most glamorous prizes that the turf world can offer.

A sinister fate has ruled that the Preakness of 1932 calls together not the greatest three-year-olds in the land, but that the entry list will be made up of second raters and the third raters, while the glittering stars are in their Kentucky, New York and Maryland barns suffering from illness, injuries or lack of faith on the part of their owners.

Many Are Withdrawn.

Burning Blaze, Universe, Brandon Mint, Brother Joe and several others which loomed as threats in the derby and the Preakness were cut down in races and are crippled.

The great filly, Evening, was not entered by her owner, who, a year ago, did not thing that she ever would develop the greatness she has shown this season.

Pompeius, perhaps the best of the 3-year-olds, performed so erratically that W. R. Coe, his owner, did not believe in his future, and did not enter the whirlwind in the event of tomorrow.

Top Flight, unbeaten champion at two, is sick and won't start. Economic, which finished second in the Kentucky race, is ineligible. Stepanfetchit and Overtime, the Mrs. John Hay Whitney pair, either of which might have won the derby with a bit of racing luck, were not nominated for the Preakness.

Bishop Named To Head Croton Team

At a meeting of the Croton M. E. mushball team Clyde Bishop, one of the outstanding athletic and sport boosters of New Castle, was elected to manage the Croton team which will enter the New Castle Church Mushball League. Bishop announces that he will have a strong team in the field. Frank Doerr, treasurer of the Sunday School and veteran of many Croton baseball teams, has been named as secretary and treasurer to assist Bishop with the team.

According to Bishop Alexander and Snow will do the bulk of the twirling. Blaine, Gormley, Earhart and Leslie will handle the infield berths. Charles Schetrom is first-string catcher and Harold Booth his under-study. Reiber, Rubeis, Dietrich, Benninghoff and White will look after the outfield posts. Booth, Milliken, Steritz, John Wilson, Roy Bales, Bill Shuler, Ray Bales, and Thompson are giving the first team a fight for positions.

Manager Bishop has carded two practice sessions one tonight at Scott Field where the old Field Club used to stand, and the other practice will be Saturday afternoon.

Merchants Defeat Drake A. C. 19-8

East Side Merchants mushball team handed the Drake A. C. a 19 to 8 setback last night for their fifth straight victory. Jones on the hill for the Merchants allowed but seven hits, one a homer by Reed. George Ponion of the Merchants had three home runs and a double.

The East Side Merchants would like to book games with all New Castle teams using a 12-inch ball. For games call 5731-J and ask for Harry.

PUMP STATION WINS

Pump Station mushball team defeated Second U. P. church 10 to 3. Harry Wyman is manager of the Pump Station and would like to book games. Managers should call 1986-J.

First Christians mushball team will play the Wesley M. E. church team tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the Scotland Lane field. All candidates for posts on the First Christian team are asked to report promptly at the Scotland Lane field at 6:30 o'clock. Both teams are members of the New Castle church mushball league, and this game tonight is a practice affair.

Umpires Assigned To County League

Umpires for the three Lawrence county league games for Saturday were announced today as follows:

Scarazzos at West Side Tigers, Ben Price and Ross.

Brent at Bessemer, Dunn and Bishop.

CROTON ALL-STARS WIN.

Croton All-Stars defeated the Cloverleaf A. C. 11 to 10 in a game played at the Castle Hill field Wednesday night. M. Isabella on the hill for the winners allowed but eight hits. S. Angelo played the best game for the Crotonites with four hits. J. Morgan umpired the game.

GENERAL A. C. BOOKING.

General A. C. baseball team or mushball team, would like to book games with all fast teams in the city. The team averages from 12 to 16 years of age. Clem General is the manager of the team. For games call Joe Christopher from 7 to 8 o'clock at 5365-M.

Bounding Toward Olympics

Cubs' Infield Has "Cracked"

Herman, Jurges And Stephenson Kick In With Seven Errors As Chicago Loses

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 13.—Baseball players who have been predicting that the kid infield of the Chicago Cubs would crack were in an "I-told-you-so" mood today, while admirers of the Bruins were hoping that the collapse of the team's inner works was merely a temporary lapse.

The youthful infielders of the league leaders blew wide open yesterday as Roger's Hornsby's club lost to the second-place Boston Braves, 8 to 3. Bill Herman, rookie second sacker from Louisville, made four errors and Shortstop Jurges was guilty of two boots. Old Hoss Stephenson, out in left field, chipped in with another miscue for a grand total of seven errors.

Dodgers Beat Reds

Babe Phelps of Brooklyn beat Cincinnati, 5 to 2, the Dodgers passing the Giants and going into sixth place.

Jess Haines hurled the Cardinals to an easy 8 to 2 win over the Phillies.

Porter's double in the ninth gave Cleveland a 5 to 4 victory over the Red Sox, in the only other game played.

Pairings Made For Cup Play

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, May 13.—Pairings for the United States-Mexico Davis Cup tennis matches were announced here Thursday.

Today's singles will bring Wilmer Alliso, Texan, in play against Ricardo Tapia, of Mexico. Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, will play Alfonzo Unda, Mexico.

John Van Ryn, Philadelphia, and Wilmer Allison will play Unda and Eduardo Maestre in doubles Saturday. Singles will be played Sunday, Tapi meeting Vines and Allison playing Unda.

WILD CATS WIN.

Titan Tennis Team In Two Hard Matches

(Special To The News)

WESTMINSTER, Pa., May 13—Coach Joseph McFate's Westminster College tennis team has two matches to be played in succession this week-end. The Bethany College will be in New Wilmington this afternoon, and the Titan racquet team will journey to Youngstown, O., tomorrow to play Youngstown College.

Captain Dave Findlay, Ben Avon and his mates are in better shape than they were last Saturday when Geneva won out by a 5-2 score. Tiers, Campbell, McGill and Perkins will constitute the Titan team.

Next week, Westminster plays Waynesburg at Waynesburg Wednesday afternoon, and Bethany at Bethany, W. Va. on Thursday afternoon. Youngstown College will be played at New Wilmington on May 24 and the Butler Musketeer Club will be played at Butler on May 26. A return match with Geneva at Beaver Falls on May 30 will end the season

Three Games In Church League

Three games will be played tonight in the Lawrence County Church baseball league as follows: Calvary Presbyterians at Chewton, Clinton vs. St. Monicas at the St. Monicas field. Princeton vs. Oak Grove at the Oak Grove Field.

Schaaf Favored To Defeat Gross

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 13.—Ernie Schaaf, Boston heavyweight, ruled a 2 to 1 favorite today to defeat Jack Gross, Philadelphia southpaw, in their 10-round battle tonight at Madison Square Garden.

In the semi-final, King Tut, St. Paul lightweight who was stopped by Billy Petrolle in his last New York appearance, meets Morris Sherman of Detroit in ten rounds.

BASKETEERS TO BANQUET TONIGHT

Members of the Eintracht Basketball team and guests will be banqueted this evening at the Eintracht club. The Eintracht had a good season, their first in basketball.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Chick Hafey of Cincinnati stands today at the head of the National league hitters with a percentage of .413 while Jimmy Foxx of the Athletics holds first place in the American league with an average of .436.

Jimmy Taylor, Frankie Bauers and Mickey Dugan, Cleveland boxers have been suspended in Pennsylvania. The suspension notice reads that they have been laid off "for conduct detrimental to the sport," at Pittsburgh, April 30.

Frank O'Doul, hard clouting Brooklyn outfielder was stopped yesterday after hitting in 11 straight games. He failed to register a hit in four times at gat against Johnson and Rixey of the Cincinnati Reds.

Orwell continues to be a favorite to win the English Derby, June 1. The American-owned colt belongs to W. M. G. Singer. Miracle is second choice and Dastur, third favorite.

St. Andrews To Play Tonight

St. Andrews church mushball team after waiting for the rain to cease ever since Monday night, will try it again tonight, when they are carded to meet the Cunningham A. C. at Gaston Park Field at 6:30 o'clock. The game with the A. R. Sokols will be played at a later date. The Cunningham A. C. will give the St. Andrews team a tough engagement tonight.

Junior Athletes To Compete Today

Approximately three score junior high school athletes will participate in the Ben Franklin-George Washington junior high school track and field meet which is scheduled to start at four o'clock this afternoon on Taggart field. Dan Carroll coached George Washington and Emmett Gillaspie had charge of Ben Franklin athletes.

Nine Teams Comprise New Castle Mushball League This Summer

New Castle mushball league will start the 1932 season Monday night of next week, with four games on tap. There are nine teams in the league. Six different fields throughout the city have been secured. A. E. "Fiz" Fraser is president of the league this year, supplanting Charles P. Walther, who served for two consecutive years following the first organization of the league in New Castle.

The schedule has been divided into two sections, the winner of the first half playing the winner of the second half for the title at the end of the year. The first half starts Monday, May 16, and ends July 8. The second half starts Monday, July 11 and ends September 2.

Following are the games listed for the first week of the season:

Lockleys vs Radiators, Radiator.
W. S. Merchants vs Higgins, Lehigh.
Sacred Hearts vs Smiths, B. & O.
Williams vs Spencers, Washington.

Tuesday, May 17.

Ind. Merchants vs Lockleys, Lehigh.

Friday, May 20.

Higgins vs Williams, Clifton Flats.
Smiths vs Radiators, Radiator.
W. S. Merchants vs Ind. Merchants, Lehigh.

Other schedules of the league will appear on The News sport page one week in advance. The managers are asked to watch for these schedules very closely.

CASTLEWOODS TO PLAY

Castlewoods and Malizia will play at 6:30 p. m. D. S. T. Friday at the Croton field.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Market Prices Show Irregular Trend

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 13.—Stocks prices worked lower today on fresh liquidation in the rails and weakness in specialties.

Virtually every railroad went into fresh low ground. Further pressure on Atchison, N. Y. Central and Union Pacific, yesterday's weak spots, was responsible.

Other leading issues to break to new lows included Eastman Kodak and Western Union. U. S. Steel was relatively firm but American Telephone was under pressure.

Oils were reactionary. Standard of New Jersey sagged under further liquidation while Royal Dutch reflected disappointment over the small dividend.

Fresh pressure on Woolworth unsettled the merchandising group. Utilities were heavy, led by Consolidated Gas and Peoples Gas.

The market staged a feeble rally at the end of the first hour. The rails failed to participate, however, and this led to renewed selling. Trading was at a slow pace.

OFFICIALS ON SPOT WHERE BABY WAS FOUND

Central Press Telephoto

New Jersey state authorities and plainclothesmen are snapped at Mt. Rose Hill, near Hopewell, N. J., on the spot where the body of baby Charles Lindbergh was discovered by William Allen, negro. Arrow indicates where the little fellow was left after his murder by kidnapers.

Girl Is Injured In Accident Occurring At Mill-Falls Streets

Several Accidents On The Streets Of City Reported To Police

James W. Patton of Morehead avenue, South New Castle Boro, was driving south on North Mill street at Falls street Thursday, as the car of Frank Sanders of 1128 Berkley avenue, Youngstown, O., came west on Falls street and failed to make the stop before going onto Highland avenue. The result was that the machines came together, both being damaged.

Sue Adams of 509 Lyndal street, who was in the Patton car, sustained numerous severe cuts on the nose, forehead and face and was removed to the New Castle Hospital, where she is doing as well as could be expected.

Sanders was held by the police on a suspicion charge. An adjustment of the case is now being made between the parties effected.

Donald Latimer of 258 Smtihfield street, was enroute east on East Washington street at Ray street Thursday, driving the car of Kenneth L. White of 1017 Hazen street, as Howard Bott of 225 Meyer avenue, came south on Ray street onto East Washington street. The machines came together and both were damaged to some extent.

Dorothy Krah of 609 East Division street, was enroute east on Allen street and made the stop before going onto East Washington street. Seeing no cars, she went out on Washington street and had hardly done so, when suddenly a car bearing Pennsylvania license GZ141 going west on Washington street, appeared and the machines came together. Both were damaged.

R. L. Williams of R. D. 2 reported today that he was enroute north on South Mill street at the Pennsylvania R. R. Crossing, when the gateman let the gates down suddenly and blocked his way. He managed to get out of his trouble without damage to his machine or the gates.

TRAVEL CLUB IS TOLD OF JAPAN

Members of the Travel Club discussed Japan at their meeting in the Story Hour room of the Free Public Library Thursday afternoon.

This meeting had been postponed from the previous week. The children had read a number of books on Japan, and their customs and observances were told by Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian.

HELD FOR BREAKING WINDOW IN HOME

Charles Lewis was arrested last night after being identified as the man, who threw a rock through a window at 421 South Mill street, narrowly missing a child sleeping in the place. Lewis is being held pending an investigation of the case. Officer Allgier made the arrest.

HE FOUND LINDBERGH BABY

Central Press Telephoto

William Allen, above, Mount Rose, N. J., negro is the discoverer of the body of Baby Charles Lindbergh, kidnaped, slain and left beside a lonely road just a few miles from his home in Hopewell, N. J. Allen, with Orville Wilson, driving from Mt. Rose to Hopewell, with a truckload of timber made the discovery and notified police who identified the child through clothing.

As Youth Hung On For His Life

Central Press Telephoto.

This graphic photo of the U. S. S. Akron, shows the world's largest dirigible trying to moor at San Diego, Cal., as Charles Cowart, 19 year old sailor, clung precariously to one of the cables. Cowart was able to cling to the rope and was hoisted 300 feet to safety into the hatch of the big ship, but two other men, members of the ground crew, were killed a moment before this photo was taken when they lost their grips on the rope as the dirigible surged upwards. After four attempts the Akron was lashed to its mast.

LINDBERGH HOME NEARLY ISOLATED FROM WORLD

The desolate country surrounding the Lindbergh home near Hopewell is depicted here. Photos show two air views of the Lindbergh estate and a lonely lane nearby, similar to that at Mount Rose where the child's body was found. The isolation probably prevented earlier discovery.

BEFORE WORLD'S MOST TRAGIC KIDNAPING OCCURRED

Here are a number of views of the Lindbergh baby and a touching picture of his mother, Mrs. Anne Lindbergh, taken several months ago, as she held him in her arms. Most of the photographs above were made only a short time before the child was kidnaped.

Branch Library At Mgt. Henry Home

Branch Of Free Public Library Is Established For Children

With forty books as a nucleus, a branch of the Free Public Library has been established at the Margaret Henry Home by Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian.

One of the older girls at the home is looking after the distribution of the books, which will be changed every six weeks.

Young Supports Bond Issue Plan

New York Politicians See Great Prospects In Owen D. Young's Relief Support

IS "DARK HORSE" FOR DEMOCRATS

International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 13.—Politicians were speculating Thursday on the action of Owen D. Young, potential "dark horse" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, in coming out squarely in favor of Senator Joseph T. Robinson's proposed $2,000,000,000 unemployment relief bond issue and of an equalization fee on wheat as "an experiment".

Young's sudden plunge into a discussion of national questions was regarded as of high political significance in view of the movement—which seems to have gained momentum in the past few days—to promote Young as a compromise candidate for president in the event the Democratic convention in Chicago next month becomes deadlocked.

Inasmuch as Young has been virtually silent on national issues and problems, politicians are now taking the view that he has suddenly entered the political arena and that he will be a receptive candidate.

Young's endorsement of Senator Robinson's bill did not surprise observers since Young already had made a similar bond issue suggestion to members of congress.

Bethany Lutheran "Go To Church" Day

Sunday will be the fourth Sabbath in the "Go to Church" drive of the Bethany Lutheran church on East Washington street, and the services Sunday will be dedicated to the young people of the congregation.

The services will begin with the Sunday school session at 9:30 a. m., at which time the junior choir will have special music, followed by a special reading "Your Church and My Church" by Doris McMillen.

Divine worship will be held at 10:45 and David Jenkins will deliver the sermon, taking as his subject "Safety First for the Young People". Special music will be furnished by the senior choir.

KING'S DAUGHTERS MEET

The May meeting of the King's Daughters of Mahoning was held in the home of Mrs. F. A. Montgomery. There was a very good attendance. At noon a delicious cafeteria dinner was served.

The work of the day was making dresses for the children's home in Valencia.

The usual program followed. Mrs. Roy McBride led the devotionals. India was the missionary study and the speakers were Mrs. George Allen and Mrs. Earl Cover. Anna May and Dorothy Munn favored the society with a vocal duet. Reports from the Presbyterial in New Castle recently were given by Mrs. Harry Kretzer and Mrs. Roy McBride.

The meeting adjourned to meet in June with Mrs. Larimer Carlisle.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. George Allen entertained Tuesday at 6 o'clock dinner in honor of his mother's birthday, Mrs. S. W. Allen. A birthday cake formed the table centerpiece.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kennedy of Youngstown.

TENT HALL NOTES

Prominent Erie Man Severely Wounded

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., May 13.—Richard Kinzies, prominent Erie merchant, was found suffering from a serious abdominal wound on the streets here Thursday.

Physicians at the St. Vincent's hospital where Kinzies is confined, hold little hope for his recovery.

Trinity Members To Go To Franklin

A number of members of the Trinity Episcopal church will assemble at the church Sunday at 2:45 p. m. and go to Franklin to attend the annual presentation services of mite box offerings.

Those in the group will include the junior girls chorus, the crucifer the flag bearer, two choir mothers and two organists, as well as a number of boys and girls from the church school.

PRIMARY PROMISE COSTS DEPUTY JOB

WARREN ,O., May 13—Sheriff J. C. Risher may be broadminded, but he refuses to keep a chief deputy whose advertising in his own campaign for sheriff promised to "put the bootleggers out of business." So Evans J. Thomas, defeated candidate for sheriff, is no longer chief deputy.

"Thomas' hands weren't' tied. If he could promise to end bootlegging as sheriff, he certainly could have shown it to me as chief deputy for three and a half years" said Risher.

SERVICES 150 YEARS LATE

GETTYSBURG, Pa.—Evening services will be held May 9 to 13 in historic Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian church near here, for the first time since its erection more than a century and a half ago. Because a lighting system never had been installed, only morning and afternoon services have been held.
